NAVAHOE IN THE LEAD

There Is Now a Chance That the American Yacht May Win a Race in England.

She Is Sailing Today Over a Forty-Two Mile Course With Only One Competitor.

The Start Made in a Stiff Southwest Wind and the Navaho Was Soon Leading.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—A race open for yachts about forty tons rating took place today under the auspices of the Royal Southampton Yacht club. The course covered a distance of forty-two miles. The start was made at Netley, three miles southeast of Southampton. Thence the yachts sailed down Southampton water to and around a boat anchored off Lymington, and then to and around the Warner lightship to the entrance of the Isle of Wight, and thence back to Netley.

The prizes were £75 to the winner and a silver medal to the captain of the winner. Only two of the big yachts, the Navaho, owned by Royal Phelps Carroll, and the Calluna, owned by Mr. Donaldson, started. The start was made in a stiff southwest wind. The Navaho got away first and soon led the Calluna by fifty seconds. The Navaho won with several minutes to spare.

SHOOTING OF AN EDITOR.

A County Judge in Arkansas Shot Him In The Side.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 5.—Intense excitement was caused here last night by the shooting and probably fatal wounding of Capt. W. J. Allen, editor and proprietor of the Dallas Interstate News, by John K. King, county judge of Bowie county, Texas. The beginning of the trouble dates back about a month when Allen was arrested and fined for alleged contempt of court.

The all-out contempt was caused by Allen of an abusive criticism of the court's action. Last night the parties met and King drew a revolver and fired, the ball taking effect in Allen's left side and passing through the body below the lungs. His physicians say there is little chance for Allen's recovery.

STEEL WORKS CLOSING.

Lack of Orders Assigned as the Cause for Stopping Work.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 5.—The La Belle steel works, one of the largest steel works in Allegheny, will close down today in all but three departments, which will be kept in operation until present orders are finished. The reason given is scarcity of orders. All the men in the mills will be laid off in fall on Aug. 15.

The Liggett spring and axle works in Allegheny have closed down indefinitely.

The indications are that Phillips, Nix & Co. and Brown & Co. will soon attempt to start their works without signs of any labor trouble.

A Johnstown special says that nearly all of the Cambria Iron company's mills shut down yesterday and 2,000 men are idle. Four hundred of the Gaultier steel workers are idle, while the balance are working one-third time. There is no intimation when work will resume.

A Fat Sincere.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Governor Flower has appointed ex-Senator John Foley, of New York, to the position of the Columbian commission to be appointed by the recent death of Hon. Donald McNaughton. The commission requests that the appointee shall be known as the chief executive officer of the board of managers of the exhibit of the state of New York at the Columbian exposition. A salary of $5000 is attached to the position.

He Committed Suicide.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—A special to the Times from Scranton says that President E. A. Moffat, of the Lackawanna Iron & Steel company, who resided in London, has committed suicide. He committed suicide by shooting himself. Mr. Moffat has been suffering for some time with insomnia and nervousness, induced by overwork, and his physicians had recommended a sea voyage.

Want to the Wall.

EST. LIVERPOOL, O. Aug. 5.—The Pioneer Pottery company at Wellsville, one of the leading industrial establishments of the city, has gone to the wall, an assignment having been made at a late hour yesterday. The assets will exceed $75,000 with liabilities somewhat less. About 200 men are thrown out of employment.

Cutting Down Expenses.

A DEFAULTING TREASURER.

He and His Sons Robbed an Indiana County of $50,000.

TIPTON, Ind., Aug. 5.—James K. Armstrong, the defaulting treasurer, is now in jail here with his son Cal, charged with a double crime of stealing the county's funds and attempting to liberate his son.

Walter Litter and Jim Preller, the young men who were arrested charged with being implicated in the attempt at jail delivery, made a confession last night, which shows that the treasurer himself was the instigator of the attempt to release his son. Experts are now at work on the treasurer's case and the same is to be in a wavy shape than at first supposed.

Mort Armstrong, the younger son, who left town a few days before the expose, has not been apprehended yet. He is thought to be in the place of the South. The names of all three of them will probably foot up $50,000. A servant of the Armstrongs has also been arrested as he had a finger in the pie.

SPLIT HER HEAD OPEN.

A Negro Brutally Murdered His Wife in Arkansas.

TEXARKANA, Ark., Aug. 5.—Henry Armour, a negro who lives in a disreputable suburb known as Swampoodle, quarreled with his wife, Fannie, Thursday night. Both had been drinking heavily. The negro, who was drunk, fell asleep and the maddened husband went upstairs, procured a heavy bar of iron and returning struck the sleeping woman on the head and knocked her down. The negro then cut off her hair and cut clothes over the body, and saturating the entire mass with kerosene set it on fire and then fled. Neighbors burst open the door and extinguished the fire, but not until the body had been badly burned. The others who had been drinking were soon aroused and found the negro was still alive. The negro was then carried to a hospital and died.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Postmaster General Bissell today issued an order fixing the rate to be paid telegraph companies for transmitting all government messages (not including those passing over circuits established by the weather bureau) during the year ending June 30, 1894. The fixed rates are as follows:

For day messages, containing not more than 20 words, exclusive of place from and date, 20 cents, not exceeding 1000 miles, and 1 cent for each additional 1000 miles. One-quarter of one cent is to be added for each 500 miles or fraction thereof. For night messages, containing not more than 20 words, exclusive of place from and date and 20 cents, not exceeding 1000 miles, and 1 cent for each additional 1000 miles. One-quarter of one cent is to be added for each 500 miles or fraction thereof.

For night messages, not exceeding 20 words, exclusive of place from and date and 15 cents for any distance within 2000 miles, or for greater distances 25 cents; in each case 1 cent for each additional word. It is further provided that if during the year any telegraph company transmits messages in excess of 20 words, the rate will be 20 cents for 20 words and 1 cent for each additional word.

These rates are somewhat in excess of those fixed by Postmaster General Wanamaker but are materially less than those fixed by Postmaster General Dickinson in 1888.

A BUILDING COLLAPSED.

Two Men and a Woman Supposed to be in the Ruins.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—A dilapidated old building on Main and Plum streets collapsed last night, the whole structure falling into the cellar. Three persons are supposed to be in the ruins. The building had been deserted for a couple of years and had served as a right road for tramps.

At the time of the accident three negroes were sitting in front of the building. They narrowly escaped death by falling through the floor and said that for some time before the accident the man and two men were sitting inside the building. Whether they escaped is not known, but a search will be made.

THE CREW WERE SAVED.

Wreck of a Steamer in the Straits of Belle Isle.

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—The steamship Straits of Gibraltar has been lost in the straits of Belle Isle by a collision with icebergs. She is a total wreck and her cargo of coal has been entirely lost. The crew were saved by a passing vessel and are now in safety.

The vessel was in the regular trade between Montreal and Glasgow and left here July 24. She was valued at $110,000 and this is covered by insurance in English companies. Her owners are McLennan & Co.

The heaviest loser was O. R. Barker, whose loss was $8000 and insured for $1000. The total losses are about $30,000, total insurance $13,000. The bank vaults are intact and the bank is doing business in Judge Keith's office.

This is the first time in the history of British maneuvers of this kind that the defensive fleet has won.

FOR GRAND LARCENY

A Wall Street Firm Will Try to Have National Cordage Officers Indicted For Larceny.

Henry Allen & Co. Claim That They Misrepresented Facts About the Company Which Resulted Seriously.

When Intending to Apply For a Receiver They Advised Allen to Buy Cordage Stock.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—The Press says: It is asserted that the firm of Henry Allen & Co., of Wall street, will go before the grand jury next Monday and ask for an indictment of James W. Waterbury, president, Frank T. Wall, vice-president, F. T. Lopez, treasurer, Chauncey Marshall, second vice-president, Henry Allen & Co., have employed as attorneys Charles H. Brush, of 45 Wall street, and John Vincent, criminal lawyer of 32 Nassau street. The charge is to be grand larceny in the first degree.

It will be remembered that a receiver was appointed for the National Cordage company on May 4. On the night of April 30 Henry Allen gave a dinner party at his home, No. 11 East Thirty-fourth street, to the men whose names in question were here mentioned in my article. At the dinner, as alleged, it was proposed that Mr. Allen buy 20,000 more shares of cordage stock and the guests consented, it is said, to put up the margin.

Mr. Allen had some serious doubts, it appears, as to the desirability of cordage and asked the men present, as officers of the company, what they thought of the stock. They told him, it is alleged, that it was the best in the market and would without doubt pay a dividend of 13 per cent during the ensuing year and above that, "a good grand larceny." It is claimed that at this very time one of the party had an application for a receiver for the cordage company in his possession.

The day after the dinner party Mr. Allen, following the advice of those there received, purchased 10,000 shares of stock. According to the agreement, it is alluded to that Mr. Allen was to receive $5,000 from Mr. Waterbury as a margin for the purchase at 10 o'clock that morning. Ten o'clock and the money was not forthcoming. A few minutes later the men heard a noise of the fallings of locks, keys, etc., and shortly after that the firm of Henry Allen & Co. had suspended payment.

When concerning the matter yesterday, neither party would have anything to say, but Mr. Allen has already hinted that something of this kind was about to happen.

Will Pay in Full.

HAMMOND, Ind., Aug. 5.—The First National bank of Hammond, suspended yesterday. The cause of the failure is assigned to heavy withdrawals of paper and the inability to realize on paper. President M. M. Towle gave out a statement to the press that the depositors would be paid in full. The Commercial stood a $60,000 run yesterday, but it was checked when the depositors became satisfied that the bank had two to one to pay all claims.

Will Arm the Constables.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 5.—The rough treatment of the Negroes in Sumpter and Charleston has made the governor angry. Today he announced that he was going to arm the constables and intended to give them instructions to shoot anybody who interfered with them.

Burned Itself Out.

BRADFORD, Pa., Aug. 5.—The fire at the Kes-kuang lumber camp last night burned itself out before the Bradford firemen arrived. Two million feet of lumber were destroyed. The loss will reach $250,000; well insured.

Mons. Satallo in This Country for a Purpose. Dr. Speer & Co. here to cure piles permanently.

MATAAFAS WAS DEFEATED.

A Battle in Which Twenty Were Killed and Twenty-eight Wounded.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—The steamer Monowai brings news of the engagement which took place between the forces of King Malietoa and Chief Mataafa and which was briefly mentioned in the cable advices of July 13. The fight occurred on the 20th, the rebels were defeated and forced to flee. On Mataafa's side sixteen were killed and seventeen wounded, while King Malietoa lost four killed and eleven wounded.

The first news of the battle which reached Apia was the bringing to Mataafa of the heads of eleven rebels. Later came news of the capture of the rebels in thirteen in all. Four women were killed during the fight, two of whom were engaged in the conflict along with others and one of these was beheaded while defending her wounded husband.

The steamer Monowai, from which Mataafa was wounded, set fire to his own town which was burned to the ground.

At latest accounts he had gone to Upolu, where he was hemmed in and had no chance to escape. The foreign consul at Apia has issued a proclamation ordering all the white inhabitants to keep away from the natives and take no part in the hostilities.

WHISKY MEN AGITATED.

An Order by Secretary Carlisle Has Alarmed Them.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 5.—Banks and whisky men are greatly agitated over Secretary Carlisle's order requiring government depositaries to turn over the surplus to the sub-treasury instead of sending it to New York as heretofore.

The whisky men declare that they cannot get the necessary currency and have to close business. Trust Hobart left last night for Peoria on an urgent call. The situation there is said to be even worse than here. Three of the Cincinnati depositaries have telegraphed Secretary Carlisle requesting suspension of the order.

ARE FURTHER RESPIRED.

The Choctaw Indians May Escape Hanging Altogether.

WILBURTON, I. T., Aug. 5.—The nine Choctaw Indians who were sentenced to be shot July 2 for the murder of several members of the Jones faction, and who were reprieved by Governor Jones until Aug. 4, have been granted a further reprieve of one month.

It is believed that should the United States government insist upon the punishment of the prisoners, Governor Jones will consent, especially if such a course would put an end to the deplorable controversy between his and the Locke faction.

Stranded in Missouri.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—A Tribune special from Springfield, Mo., says: The Lizzie Anandale Opera company and a Mexican orchestra arrived here last Sunday to play in Springfield this week. They had been playing to bad business and found no encouragement here. The Mexican band severed its connection with the opera company and left for Chicago. The opera company will give a concert Sunday and then leave the city if it can.

For Criminal Libel.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 5.—Advices from Honolulu, the executive council of the provisional government has decided to institute prosecution for criminal libel against Charles Creighton for his article published in the "Advertiser" on the 23d presented to Claus Spreckels, which Blount says was unauthorized, unless a satisfactory apology is made to the American minister by Creighton.

Stand in the Woods.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed is in the city on route to Washington. "I have nothing to say about the present political situation," he said when seen by a reporter. "There are many things that could be said or admitted, but it is better, I believe, to remain quiet."

President Cleveland Will Now Settle Down to Hard Work.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—President Cleveland arrived on the Fall River steamer Puritan at 8 o'clock this morning. He was driven to the Pennsylvania depot in Jersey City and left over that road for New York.

He was accompanied by Secretaries Lamont and Carlisle. The president was looking in better health than he has for some time. He is almost as brown as a berry from being out of doors while at Gray Gables.

Last evening the president and secretaries opened a session of the Senate until quite late, discussing the coming extra session of congress and the probable repeat of the Sherman act. The president will now settle down to hard work.

The party traveled in the private car of Vice-President Frank Thompson, which had been placed at their disposal. The car was attached to the Washington special which drew out of the depot at 8:30 o'clock. There was no demonstration of any kind.

WEST DULUTH ITEMS.

Conference at the City Hall Last Evening In Reference to Labor Day Celebration.

Steps Will Be Taken Toward Having the Missabe Road Celebration on the Same Day.

Great Western Manufacturing Company Closed Down For a Few Days To Make Repairs.

A meeting was held at the city hall last evening at which the committee from the Trades and Labor Assembly of Duluth, was present for the purpose of extending an invitation to the labor organizations of West Duluth to participate in a Labor day celebration to take place on September 4. Judge Hinnaugh was chosen chairman and the principal speaker was Mr. Griffin, president of the timbermen's bureau. Joseph Harmon representing the timbermen, cornic workers, and Mayor Martin, who as a committeeman on the Duluth Missabe & Northern celebration, suggested that a conference be held between the two bodies and then they would make arrangements for a grand success. After some discussion it was decided to invite the Missabe committee to meet the Trades and Labor assembly at the next regular meeting, which takes place next Thursday evening, to make arrangements if possible for a joint celebration.

Closed for a Week. The Great Western Manufacturing company closed down today until the 14th of the month. An inspection of the boilers by the state inspector has shown them to be somewhat at fault, and the men are dull and money scarce it was thought best to repair them at the present time.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will give a lawn social at the residence of F. W. McCormick on Wednesday evening, Aug. 9th. Refreshments will be served.

THE ANGLERS OF DULUTH.

There Was Not Much Fishing Done During the Week.

The anglers did not do much fishing the past week. The shooting season is close at hand and the men are already talking of fowls and pluming some glorious things after game, chickens, and ducks, and soon the rod will be laid aside for the shot gun. All signs go to that game will be unusually plentiful this season. Nearly every party that has been out have reported seeing gosse and deer and bear tracks are thick along the streams. The cathers have been lucky the past week. The cathers have not only enjoyed ideal weather for camping out, but have had no occasion to test the water proof qualities of their tents. Those who have returned, sun burnt, tired but happy report glorious times and say the fish are inquisitive, were scarcely noticed, and all have fish stories to relate, some quite modest, some otherwise. The claim made in these columns that the girls could fish if given a chance seems to have been well verified last week. Report came from a South Shore camp that a four and one-half pound trout was captured by a young lady, whose melodious voice has often charmed Duluth audiences.

* * *

The pilgrims to Isle Royale and the Nipigon waters are returning, and report a pleasant trip. Isle Royale more than met their expectations, but the fishing in and around the islands were disappointing. The World's fair has caused a decrease in the usual number of visitors from the states to the Canadian waters and the hotels and guides are rather unreasonable in their charges.

* * *

Commed B. F. Howard with his family a few St. Paul friends as his guests, heard the Natives for Isle Royale last evening. They will make the circuit and fish the north shore streams for a week or two.

* * *

W. A. Foote was up to Stewart river Wednesday and reports that stream almost destitute of trout. It has probably been netted and it will be of use to go there this season. Last evening Mr. Foote and W. A. Hunt went down to the Brule.

* * *

All Grasser and Charles D. Campbell went on the Isle Royale excursion and report a catch of 175 trout.

WHEAT FARMER TODAY.

Fair Trading and a Stronger Feeling on the Market.

A fair wheat's trading and an excited, nervous and very trying wheat's business closed here today with a quiet and firm wheat market. The records during the week have been light, gathering only 100 lbs. shipments have been made, and the exchanges have been which seriously checked what would have been a large amount of business. There was a good showing demand and plenty of very good wheat, but the market was not long in getting their cargoes. The market opened with a slight advance at the first closing price, but the first reading was steady, but dull, and there was a further advance of 1/2¢. Towards the close the feeling was that the market would be maintained. Cash wheat sold in a small way above yesterday and wheat "to arrive" at 100¢ per bushel. The market was higher than yesterday for cash and the higher prices. The banks are now $1,000,000 above the requirements of the 25 per cent rule.

LAST CALL!

Next week will probably be the last week of the great slaughter sale of the F. A. Lappen & Co. stock of Furniture, Carpets, Stoves, Curtains, Draperies, Baby Carriages, Refrigerators, etc. As we advertised at the beginning of this sale, this stock must be closed out to the last article in SIXTY days. If you cannot use it all in West Superior, Duluth and vicinity, we will have to move the balance of the stock where the people can. If you have not yet paid us a visit, do not let this last opportunity slip away.

IT MAY BE MANY YEARS BEFORE YOU CAN AGAIN BUY CHOICE FURNITURE, CARPETS, ETC., AT YOUR OWN PRICE.

Do not be deceived by the many fake furniture sales that have sprung into existence since our opening. Remember that we bought this stock at 40 cents on the dollar, and are making money when we sell the goods to you at half price. The loss falls on Lappen's creditors, not on us. No concern that has to pay 100 cents on the dollar for its goods can compete with us for a moment. The prices all through the store have been still further reduced for next, our closing week. Be on hand MONDAY MORNING. This will be a good opportunity for dealers wishing to replenish their stocks at less than factory prices.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

In order to give laboring men, and others who are busy during the day, an opportunity to attend this sale, our store will be kept open until 9 p. m. all next week.

WAS A GREAT SUCCESS

First Presentation of the "National Pageant" at the Temple last evening for the benefit.

It was a Social Feature in Every Way and All Prominent Society People Were Present.

The Tableaux, Scenes and Music Were All of a High Order—The Week Socially.

The presentation of the "National Pageant" at the Temple last evening was decidedly a social affair. The audience was a large one although the house was not crowded, and all of the prominent society people were there. There were a number of box parties and theater parties were scattered all over the house. Applause was liberal and the audience rehearsed. The opening scene represented Columbus at Isabella's court pleading for means to prosecute his voyage of discovery. The Spanish court was reproduced in an elegant and realistic manner the costuming being rich and designed with considerable taste and fitness. Next came a number of the pilgrims at Plymouth rock. Governor and Mrs. Carver were seen and before them knelt a wild Indian chief, while gathered around were the pilgrims who were to make their home on this wild frontier. The courtship of Miles Standish was one of the very pretty scenes and reproduced one of the most delightful creations of a great poet's fancy. Miss Elizabeth Frazer took the part of pretty Priscilla, the Puritan, with charming grace and modesty and was supported by Misses F. B. Sloane, Mrs. Swaine and family. Misses Beauchamp, Stebbins Kennedy and Longman and Messrs. Spencer, Hauslaib, Post and Wick.

The "Owls" at the "roost" on Oatka beach gave a camp fire, and taffy pull party on a Monday evening and extended a general invitation to all the camps. A very happy time resulted with plenty of fun and frolic.

A very pleasant quarterly meeting was held at the Young Women's Christian association rooms on Tuesday evening. Mrs. F. B. George sang several selections and Mrs. F. B. Sloane, the secretary, gave an interesting account of the summer school at Genesee lake.

The excursion by the Catholic club on the steamer Ossifrage on Tuesday evening was one of the best of the season. The boat was on the water about three hours and after the rising of the moon the lake was beautiful. In the cabin there was music and refreshments were served.

Mr. Gilson and family and about a dozen friends had a picnic at Lester river on Saturday last, and spent the afternoon and evening rambling up and down the beautiful streams.

A picnic was given at Lester river last Saturday evening of Mrs. Neelton, the mother of her daughter, Mrs. A. J. Whitteman, the Ray, Ensign, Hunter, Barlow, Markell and Hubbard families participated.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Eldridge will entertain a few of their friends this evening.

The Indian schooner Glad Tidings came out quite a party on Thursday afternoon, and a fine sail out along Minneso Point and back was enjoyed. Mrs. Irman served a delightful lunch and the entire outing was most pleasant in every respect. The wind was pretty heavy for small boats, but hardly strong enough for so large a boat as the Glad Tidings.

Mr. B. Summers and family spent a few days at Port Arthur this week.

The course over which the Detroit races will be rowed is opposite Belle Isle and is soon to be one of the "best" stretches of water for rowing purposes in the United States. In addition to the regular annual events scheduled by the N. A. A. O., there seems to be a bare possibility that the Cornell varsity crew and the Cambridge (Eng) crew will compete in the International Regatta. The Cambridge crew was this year beaten at Oxford and is consequently anxious to in a measure retrieve its fortunes. The Cornell eight recently defeated the University of Pennsylvania and is rowing in very good form this year. As Cambridge does not represent the English championship, she will probably not send her crew to America.

At one time there was hope that the champion Oxford crew would visit the United States or that Yale would flush her famous crew on England's Thames, but although an amateur editor of a newspaper suggested to us as to offer to put the crews of either Oxford or Yale on a foreign trip, neither crew could be induced to tempt outrageous fortune in strange waters. This decision was a great disappointment to lovers of amateur boat racing.

The coming regatta at Detroit will be the twenty-first in the history of the N. A. A. O. and will be open to amateur rowing clubs of the world. There are nine events on the programme—single sculls, double sculls, pairs, pair oared shells, four oared shells, single eight oared shells, intermediate eight oared shells and a special international race.

Winner of the quarter mile national championship in 1891, and Thomas W. Higgins, of the Cornell Water Club, will defend his title and has defeated both Caffrey and Bergen. The present senior single scull champion is J. J. Ryan of Canada; P. Lehaney of Albany is junior single scull champion, and the New York Athlete's club's crew is the senior eight oared shell champion of the United States.

Immediately following the international regatta of the N. A. A. O. will be the silver anniversary or twenty-fifth annual regatta of the Northwestern Amateur Rowing Association on Aug. 11 and 12.

The Chicago regatta is the international regatta of the world. About 1,500 oarsmen representing different sections of America and several foreign countries are expected to compete. The meet will be held on Lake Geneva, Wisconsin, on Aug. 11 and 12. The grand stand with a seating capacity for 25,000 people has been erected opposite the course. Prizes valued at over $5,000 will be contested for, and races for the amateur championship in various branches of rowing will be features of the regatta.

The international regatta is at rather a low ebb at present, but there is considerable interest in the three-mile race between Stanbury and Gaudaur Aug. 15 for the reason that Gaudaur will attempt to wrest from the Australian oarsman his title of champion single sculler.

Stanbury won the championship in 1890 after the death of champion Henry Seale. The late William O'Connor, single scull champion of America in 1888, visited Australia and roared Stanbury for the vacant title. However, Stanbury and his American seven oared shells and his already beaten by Gaudaur in a race between several crack oarsmen. Jacob Gaudaur was single scull champion of America in 1889 and early in 1891, when he defeated John Teemer and Edward Hanlan respectively. In July, 1891, however, Hanlan turned the tables on Gaudaur and in October Teemer also outrowed the Canadian.

Richard K. Fox is endeavoring to infuse new life into professional racing and this summer he has offered the big cup for single scullers—a silver trophy which cost $1,500 and is over 2 feet in height. The cup is to represent the championship of the world and becomes the property of any oarsman who holds it three years against all comers or who wins it three times in succession. The deed of gift provides that all races must be five miles, with a turn in the middle.

KINGS OF THE PACERS

Mascot, Saladin, Flying Jib and Other Fast Ones Among the Swayback of the Turf.

At Fourteen Years of Age Old Jay-Eye-See Paced in 2:05½ and Astonished the World.

The Question Is, What Can the Ex-Queen Maud S. Do at Twenty Among the Trotters?

The business racing season of 1893 has just opened with the trotters and pacers on an equal footing. Nancy Hawks, the trotting queen, holds the world's record of 2:04, and the record of Mascot, the pacing king, is exactly the same. How will these marks look at the close of the season, and what horses will wear the trotting and pacing crowns when the winter comes? are questions horsemen all over the country are asking.

It took over half a century to lower the pacing record from the 2:28 of champion Droyer in 1829 to the 2:04 of Mascot and nearly the same time to reduce the trotting record from the 2:28 of Lady Suffolk in 1844 to the 2:04 of Nancy Hawks. Until the arrival of the sharp-trotting pacer years ago, and the coming of the sleek, sulky last season, horses racing records stood and sober things—things not broken every year—but now the turf knows that in his glory, 16 horses have broken the record and have Flying Jib displaced as the staying power man. Mascot, and after a gallant battle, during which Flying Jib negotiated the first half mile in 1:50, was passed under the wire in 2:05½, winning the heat, and the record of between his wheels and the record of the champion.

It was then that Guy came on the track, and if horses ever know what chargin is, Mascot and Flying Jib must have been filled with the feeling from foretop to fetlocks when they saw themselves beaten by the comparatively slow Guy in three heats. After a hard-fought battle, the stout-as-a-stoat Anson from active life on the baseball field a report went out of Chicago that caused the pros to stop and every reporter to ask, "Where am I?" The report was that Guy had won the first race, but that he had been beaten by the 2:05½—Anson had bought two new hats. That in itself signified nothing, but when the further information was tacked on that the hats were of green wood and that the old man had carried them to his garret with this comment, "In two years time I will be a millionaire," the world stands as the best record for the 3-year-old pacers. He is owned by Messrs. Stott of Dubuque, Ia., and as he is to be handled this year by that prince of trainers, Budd Dillie, he is very apt to get much nearer the two-year record mark before the Dole competition ends.

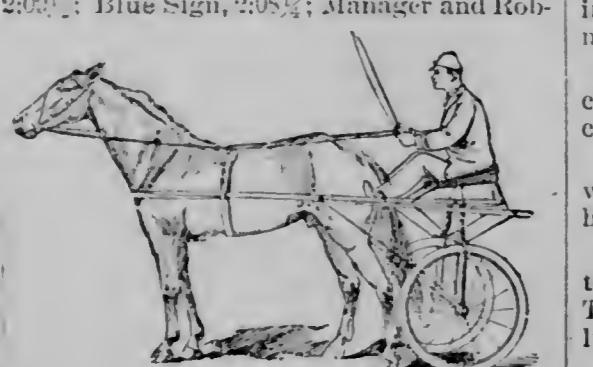

It is not beyond reason that the aged Jay-Eye-See may do some surprising work against the turf this season. Up to last year he was considered a rank number and was the record holder in the 1891 and 1892 Curses for five years. But he is no longer last August and in a very short time proved that he was in one respect at least, the remarkable horse on the turf. Jay-Eye-See was king of trotters for two years—trotted the first 100 yards in 2:01½, and proved that he was the record holder in the 2:05½—so he is a genuine competitor. There is even talk of trying a pneumatic tired unicycle sulky, and if the two minute trotter or pacer is not whinnying victoriously before the cold, biting winds of December are blowing through its foxtrot there will be a great many turf prophets without horse any where.

Records are usually broken in August, and although it is somewhat early now to look for sensational marks, there was an record set in the month before July, only a week old. The great California pacer-stallion Saladin seems to have championship material in him, for he has already paced a mile in that remarkably fast time of 25½, on the King of the Dells track, and has followed the champion, Mascot, in five heats. Saladin is 8 years old and was bred by L. J. Rose of Los Angeles. He is by Sultan—Eliza Lewis and is owned by James B. Green of Wilmington, Del., who trains and drives him. For the three years he has been in harness he has never looked upon as fast pacer, and last year he closed the season with a mark of 2:01½, but few horsemen imagined that he would pace in 2:05½ and defend the king of all "sleekies" in the very first race he entered this year.

Saladin is already within 15 seconds of the world's pacing record and only one quarter of a second behind the world's pacing record for stallions now held by that plucky little filly, Direct, 2:05½. Like many other stallions he has had a hard time after a honor slip from his possession into that of some new turf wonder. At the close of 1891 the little black California stallion had to his credit the pacing championship, the stallion championship, the race championship and the record of having won the first race in the pacer race. He had beaten Hal Pointer in two runs out of three and was as near to being king of all pacers as any horse could be.

In 1892 Direct reduced his record to 2:05½, and Hal Pointer still further by doing 100 yards in 2:04. Last year the record was once, however, the pacing metronome of the year, a gelding whose pedigree beyond his dam is unknown, had dashed across the turf, dimming all previous records with his brightness, and establishing the present record of 2:04.

With such wonderful peers in the field as mascot, 2:05½; Saladin, 2:05½; Hal Pointer, 2:05½; Direct, 2:05½; Flying Jib, 2:05½; Guy, 2:05½; Roy Wilkes, 2:07½; Vinic, 2:05½; Blue Sign, 2:05½; Manager and Rob-

ETHEL, 2:11½, and Vale Maid, 2:12½, these should be some notable races this year among the "sleekies."

It is said that Direct may not be campaigned this year, but there will be others enough left to make things interesting.

One of the sensational performers of the year will doubtless be the wonderful California gelding, Flying Jib, who was unknown and had no record at the opening of last season, but who closed his campaign with the record of the second best record of Mascot, the champion. Indeed Flying Jib came very near to getting the championship and defeated Mascot in three heats at Terre Haute, Ind., in the fastest five heat contest ever paced or trotted. This was the only notable day in the life of Flying Jib and Vale Maid in a grand final, which ended in victory for Guy, the slowest pacer of the trio. The reason for this result was that Guy remained out of the race the first two heats and then came on for the remaining three, which was unusual, as his softer opponents were flogged out by the killing pace of the opening heats.

The contest between Mascot and Flying Jib in these three heats was a most remarkable one, as the two horses, the great gelding, got even with Mascot a most decided lead. The champion set a terrific pace, but although he drew away a few feet during the mile there was no daylight between him and the California at the finish. Flying Jib was fairly beaten, but he compelled the champion to pace in the unprecedented Baseball Magnates Have Counted the Bankers Three Years and Now the Bankers Count Them.

Uncle Adrian Laying Plans For Two Years Ahead and Stories of His Retirement Unfounded.

Tony Mullane Answered His Wife's Divorce Charges By Making Application For Alimony.

There have been several sensations springing upon an astonished baseball world within the last week, which serve to keep up the widespread interest. That in itself signified nothing, but when the further information was tacked on that the hats were of green wood and that the old man had carried them to his garret with this comment, "In two years time I will be a millionaire," the world stands as the best record for the 3-year-old pacers. He is owned by Messrs. Stott of Dubuque, Ia., and as he is to be handled this year by that prince of trainers, Budd Dillie, he is very apt to get much nearer the two-year record mark before the Dole competition ends.

It is not beyond reason that the aged Jay-Eye-See may do some surprising work against the turf this season. Up to last year he was

We Guarantee a Cure in Every Case We Undertake.

TO ALL WHO CONSULT US WE PLEDGE ABSOLUTE SECRECY.

PILES! PILES! PILES! PILES CURED!

Why Have Pile Sufferers a Distinct Disease of the Nervous System?

"The greatest discovery of the age is Dr. Speer & Co.'s new method of curing Piles." J. MONGER.

Because piles or hemorrhoids are enlargements of the blood vessels at the lower portion of the rectum in which the blood is congealed, and in consequence can not perform its normal duty, namely—return to heart and lungs to be reloaded with "oxygen" which with supply the entire body with nourishment.

Any interference with this function robs the body of a corresponding amount of nourishment, and it is for this reason more than any other that so many suffering with piles undergo a gradual breaking down of the entire nervous system, and in some cases become total wrecks.

CAN PILES BE CURED IN TWO WEEKS?

Mr. John Albert Monger, Owner of the Superior Citizen, the Leading Weekly Newspaper in the Northwest, Says They Can and Tells You Where This Can be Done.

MR. MONGER SAYS: For ten years I have been a constant sufferer from that dreadful disease, Bleeding Piles. I have in the last five years consulted many physicians, both here and abroad, but none of them gave me the slightest relief, even a blood operation offered me little encouragement. Two weeks ago I consulted DR. SPEER & CO., and as they were willing to guarantee a permanent cure, without causing pain, without using the knife, promising me no inconvenience or detention from business, I placed myself under their care. The result is all that could be desired. I therefore will exactly make the following statement to the public, so that all sufferers from this terrible disease may know where they can be cured at once: "DR. SPEER & CO. cured me in less than two weeks and did N. B.—I will cheerfully answer all inquiries concerning this wonderful cure."

TROUBLE IS IN PROSPECT.

Squatters and Stone and Timber Men Likely to Fight.

W. A. and Guy Eaton, Frank Klenert, Archie and Walt Philips came in Tuesday from an extensive trip through Tower's northwest territory. In conversation with a Vermilion iron company representative, the boys state that trouble between squatters and timber and stone men is inevitable in some of the newly opened townships. The feeling toward the timber and stone men entered by the squatters is a bitter and resentful one. The timber men are interested in real estate here and has been visiting here for a week, left today for his home.

BUILDING A SPUR.

The Duluth & Iron Range road, says the Virginian Engineer, is to be built on a spur from their main line, leaving the same at a point just this side of the big trestle bridge and following around the base of the range of hills to a point near the Ohio cut, the span being about a mile and a quarter in length. Orders for the work will be completed as quickly as possible and big teams will be used.

The Iron Range will then build a depot near the east end of Chestnut street and will be in line with regular trains to a point within easy reaching distance of all.

GOOD TEMPLARS CELEBRATE.

Arrangements have been completed for the celebration of the forty-first anniversary of Good Templar in this city, on August 17th, 1893. It is situated at the top of Duluth Heights and affords a grand view to lovers of scenery, overlooking the two cities, Lake Superior and surrounding vicinity. Speakers will be prominent, speak in both American and Scandinavian languages, and all will learn of temperance.

Chief Smith's Report of its Condition at the Close of July.

Chief Smith's report to the board of fire commissioners for the month of July recites that during the month of July there were eighteen alarms turned in aside from call to West Duluth at the time of the burning of the American & Brewster's sawmill. The value of property attacked was $4,650; insurance, $2,100, loss, $2,500.

The general health and conduct of the men during the month was good.

There were several cases of discipline, but nothing at all serious.

In the month of August, the Eastern manufacturers have been received and work well. One Silsby heater has been received and attached to the large engine at No. 2. Some apparatus was burned up on Duluth heights. A Preston reel carriage has been placed in service at No. 6. The Abner engine is in need of repair. The rest of the apparatus is in good condition except the Clapp & Jones engine, the springs of which have gone down as a result of a run, they are not being heavy enough.

There was no serious sickness among the horses during the month, and all are doing well. Several new animals have been purchased and placed in service.

AS SEEN BY A VISITOR

Duluth is Viewed Through the Spectacles of a Correspondent of a Leading Massachusetts Paper.

The Time Come When the Railroad System is Following its Natural Course Towards Duluth.

Great Rush Predicted of Tourists to See the Charms and Commercial Greatness of Duluth.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican publishes the following interesting article on Duluth by a special correspondent:

A timely bit of wit will sometimes attain the power of a great permanent influence. Bret Harte's clever satire on the heathen Chinee—a bit of rather misleading and cruel humor, in the opinion of the writer, has given color and form to the ideas concerning the Chinese of thousands of people. Proctor Knott's famous satire concerning Duluth, "The Zenith City of the Unsalted Sea," reverberated from one end of the country to the other. Its echoes are heard still. For many years it was much referred to the natural resources of Duluth as a sure to bring the laughing query, "Oh, you agree with Proctor Knott, do you?" The citizens of that now famous town have adopted this same word "Zenith" as a sort of watchword. They may find themselves in the classes, zonians, zenith hotels. But, in its own way, the clever satire served a very important purpose, since the whole world enjoys a good joke and thousands of people learned of Duluth through that speech who, otherwise, would have known nothing.

The large predictions concerning Duluth, as when Horace Greeley said in 1853: "At the head of Lake Superior there will be seen a city rivaling any which, in ages past, enjoyed the commerce of the world"; those of "The Inter Ocean" Stephen A. Douglas and host of others, are today seen as a surprising fulfillment. In fact, the reality is outstripping the predictions. No one knew, or imagined, in those days, that in close proximity to Duluth were two of the most extensive iron deposits in the great iron deposits of the North. Some miles of track of the Duluth & Winona is completed and a direct road connects Duluth with Minneapolis and St. Paul.

Now observe what these roads called upon to do in the way of transporting. First and foremost, they bring the iron to Duluth. In 1885, there was last year more than $6,000,000 bushels of iron shipped from Duluth, and it is promised by the astute and far-sighted president of the Great Northern transcontinental railroad—the greatly admired Jim Hill—to put a million passengers from Buffalo, Lake Erie, through Lake Huron and Lake Superior, to this noteworthy place, it seems destined to become the resort of fashionable tourists and travelers in the very near future. This will the more certainly be the case since Duluth has great charms of its own wholly aside from its commercial greatness.

The city itself clings to the side of a steep hill. Its streets from the east to the west run along the sides of this hill like a series of terraces. The bulk of the higher streets command a superb view of the basin, the western end of Lake Superior and the long, low-lying shores of Wisconsin on the other side. The writer was constantly reminded last fall of William Black's breezy and delightful description of the city, particularly as one finds them in his charming "Princess of Thule." The city has laid out a superb boulevard some seven miles in extent, which winds up this hillside by long sweeping curves toward the interior. Then, again, Duluth is now the center of the only remaining extensive belt of white pine. The Michigan forests are largely exhausted, but Duluth's lumber mills produced last year 310,000,000 feet of sawn lumber. This is a great amount of wood, which the numerous young cities and towns of the Northwest must depend. Having railroads thus at hand, it follows, as in the case of Chicago, that a great jobbing trade has sprung up, which amounted to over $3,000,000 last year.

The city is a curious and interesting to note how completely nature has done her work here in order, it would seem, to make it easier for men to build their great docks and erect their great elevators, since she has run out for nearly six miles of the most beautiful white pine. People have sat at my window in the Spaulding building and seen the water of the lake itself lashed into absolute fury by so severe a gale as has seldom visited one of our inland lakes—a gale so cruel that many ships were remissly driven ashore in the course of two hours.

As much as this, Duluth would have great railroad and manufacturing and commercial interests of her own, Horace Greeley and the other prophets doubtless foresaw. They did not know, and no one knew, that it would be left for those rods to range far and wide over the north of Duluth to discover great deposits of fine Bessemer iron ore. The Vermilion range deposits, discovered some four or five years since, were at once conceded to be equal to what had been discovered and named along the shores of Lake Superior, but now has been discovered still another range somewhat nearer Duluth, namely, the Mesaba (the word is spelled in some two different ways, as Mesaba and Mesabah). This range, which is the great breakwater, ships of all descriptions can ride at anchor in safety.

But this is not the most remarkable feature of the situation, at least in view of what has been done to date, for the water along its shores. A harbor with so deep a water is at a great disadvantage of its own from a difficulty of constructing serviceable wharves, as witness many portions of the shore of Puget sound. Indeed, at present, so deep that no one has the Northern Pacific railroad been to an enormous expense to construct its docks and wharves, but the water is so deep it is difficult to make safe anchorage. But at Duluth the

How a Superior Clergyman, Whose Salary Was in Arrears, Was Enabled to Get His Stipend.

Health Inspector John Rossiter Tells One of His Amusing Experiences While Performing His Duty.

Capt. Smallwood Spins a Yarn About Some of the Crickets He Saw in Utah.

There is a town named Superior just across the bay from Duluth and, according to stories that are heard across the water, these times of depression have the same effect upon the average man's pocketbook over there as in Duluth. When times get hard it is human nature the wide world over to let the bills for a man's religion go unpaid first. That seems to have been the case in an Episcopal church across the bay recently. The pastor did not decrease either the quality or the quantity of his prayers, his sermons were always up to par when it came to visiting the sick or comforting those who had been sick. Always worked full hours and asked no half-holiday.

His parishioners, however, did not emulate his shining example. The gold clause in the "5 per cent a month" notes dried up the milk of one good member of the flock. Another boy-wether was taken to Superior and his stipend was defecited. Still another brother, in his extremities, held out his weekly contributions for the purpose of playing the wheel or beating the seductive game of "craps." It was this with one and that with another.

One reliable result came—the preacher's salary got sadly in arrears. Now it so happened that in the good man's church was a brother who had once been a dispenser of the gospel himself, but who, feeling that his talents were great enough to warrant him in tackling bigger game, left the pulpit and became a lawyer. He was elected to the city council, and now has the snap of being an alderman. One Sunday morning recently he arose and said: "Brethren, our rector's salary has been unpaid for these many days. There will be no services this evening. This church will be closed and there will not be another service held until that salary is paid in. I have written an interesting play, for 'Friends' is a play that, in spite of much unevenness, lack of novelty in theme and plot, and artificiality in places, is interesting from beginning to end. The smoothness of the performance would have done credit to any amateur company.

He sat down, a hymn was sung, the congregation dispersed. No evening service was held, but by the next Wednesday evening the church was packed. And instead of being compelled to move to Duluth and take up the life in sure business, that pastor, had frie liver and onions for supper, wrote an excellent sermon for the next Sabbath and went to rest fully convinced that "The Lord Will Provide."

John Rossiter, chief of inspection, in the several years that he has been with the Duluth health department, has met a great many difficulties. Not the malaria terrible in itself—it is the breeding of an infinity of bodily ailments. Specifc used for its prevention and removal, in the vast majority of cases, solves for every other purpose than to mitigate the effects of its attacks. The use of arsenic, for instance, has resulted in scarlet fever ravaged its way through the plentiful supply of children, it became necessary to do a little fumigating.

THE WORLD OF LABOR

Ten Times the Number of Union Made Cigars Are Sold and Consumed in Duluth.

Thirty Union Cigar Makers Work Here and Each Rolls Seventy-five Thousand Cigars a Year.

The Splendid Opportunity That is Now Presented to Organized Labor Men in This City.

About thirty union cigar makers find regular employment in Duluth. Each of these workers rolls 75,000 cigars a year and draws an average salary of $18 per week. Ten times the number of union made cigars are sold and consumed in Duluth. That large number of scab goods disposed of in Duluth come principally from the tenement house workers in New York city, the cheap shops of Binghamton and the cheap districts of Pennsylvania. Most of the cigar makers in the Binghamton shops and the Pennsylvania districts are Americans but the tenement house makers are nearly all foreigners.

The bosses rent one or two rooms in a tenement house for a family of cigar makers. There the whole family eats, sleeps and works. The air is bad, the place is squalid, and the wages are paupers. They are afflicted with all sorts of diseases along with their hard lots and job lot of general miseries. A smoker of one of these tenement house cigars runs chances of being given small pox, syphilis and numerous other loathsome infections and diseases. In 1885, the New York legislature prohibited tenement house cigar making but the law was tested in the supreme court and declared unconstitutional. The tenement house operators are objects of pity for the system with its high rent, low wages and all the filthy, unhealthful accompaniments, keeps them always poor.

In the cheap districts of Pennsylvania most of the operators are women and children, the latter seldom attending school and often beginning work when 6 and 7 years of age. Thus the operators, raised and brought up in exceedingly cheap material and child labor, not only can the union factories be undersold, but large profits made by the employers of such labor. In fact, the manufacturer and possibly the wholesaler makes more, but the retailer and consumer don't make more than the manufacturer does. That makes the union cigarmakers of this city unable to see why so many dealers in Duluth will sell these products of scab and pauper labor, there are not even extra profits in it. There are probably ten wholesale houses and cigar manufacturers in Duluth selling scab cigars. These scab firms find that those goods goes out of the city. If nothing but union goods were sold here, not only would the money be kept here, but 300 cigarmakers would spend their wages each week instead of the thirty now employed. If each cigarmaker had an average salary of $18 a week, the thirty cigarmakers draw every Saturday night $510; 300 workers would receive $5,400 per week or $280,800 per year. No comments are needed after that showing. Even then, the amount of money kept in the city by the jobber, instead of being sent to the East has not been estimated.

Organized labor in Duluth is commanding to boycott scab cigars and they feel that even the few facts presented above fully warrant them in so doing. The only sure way to tell union made goods is by the union label.

THE CLERKS' UNION.

Its Prosperity and Growth are Very Great.

At the meeting of the Clerks' union last Tuesday evening officers were elected as follows: President, G. W. Hurl; first vice-president, Fred Ling; second vice-president, Louis Rose; financial secretary, Charles Peck; recording and corresponding secretary, A. H. Gibson; treasurer, J. I. Walker; guide and guardian, Henry Ling; trustees, A. L. Larson, G. W. May, Chas. Stephens; delegates to the Trades and Labor assembly, A. L. Eareelson, Chas. Stephens, G. W. Hurl.

The prospects for prosperity and growth in this union are very gratifying. Applications for membership are coming in and another pleasing thing is the fact that all the officers just elected are live pushing men. There will be a special meeting of the union next Tuesday evening.

A SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY.

Organized Labor Men Have a Chance to Do Good Work.

The advocates of organized labor have in their power to make this summer the beginning of a new epoch in the history of their cause in Duluth. The amalgamation of the two great central assemblies of the city has been brought about with ten times the ease and unanimity ever dreamed of by the most enthusiastic. The reason is that the united forces are loyal, energetic, competent men and what the future has in store depends in a great measure on the new assembly.

One great work can be done in bringing into the federal union the sections not now represented. Some of these probably never will come in for reasons more or less good. Others who would not come in under the old order of things will do so now. And unions both indifferent in the past and in the present, can be enthused and imbued with new life and a sense of responsibility. Among those not now represented in the central body are: All railroad men; the cooks, blacksmiths, West Duluth lumber shovels, longshoremen, iron moulder, stationary engineers and telegraphers. That's material enough to test the strength and efficiency of the best labor organization in the country.

POWER IN FRANCE.

French Organized Labor Has a Winning Way About It.

F. B. Loos, late United States consul at St. Etienne, France, recently made a report to the state department at Washington which created considerable comment. Any unprejudiced reader of the report will at once conclude that Mr. Loos looks upon the labor movement in France through photostatic spectacles and that consequently his comment is dictated by prejudice. However, the facts which he presents are very interesting, and intelligent American workingmen will be able to read the following length abstract of the report as made by Mr. Loos himself and pick from it the many facts which all point to the cheering truth that labor in France knows its power and dares to exercise it.

The labor problem in France is practically the labor problem of Europe. The conditions which environ the workingman and capitalist in this country obtain, with slight local modifications, in all the great industrial nations of Europe.

Everywhere the laboring classes are restless, socialism of one sort or another is spreading, and capital is stern and apprehensive.

There is much more discontent among the laboring classes in Europe than in America on account of the overcrowded condition of the trades and the impossibility of finding new fields of employment for the surplus workmen. French workmen have only possessed the right of organization since 1884, and they have now 1,200 trades unions or workmen's syndicates, as they are called. Organizing is still in full swing, and every class of labor has its union. Even tailors, tailors' apprentices and waiters in the drinking saloons have their formal syndicates with pompous titles.

The membership of the unions is not large, but is increasing all the while and in case of serious or widespread labor troubles could easily become enormous, the organization is always ready in "working order," and the process of absorption of new material would be rapid.

The first Labor Exchange was founded in Paris in 1875, and its establishment having been effected by the socialist element in the local trade unions its management fell into their hands. The avowed object of the exchange is to improve the relations between capital and labor and to furnish a free intelligence office or employment bureau for the advancement of the workingmen.

Master Workman, Terence V. Powderly, says he is about to withdraw from the order and practice law.

The Labor Exchange of Paris has undergone great and rapid improvement. Between 1853 and 1883 there was an average increase of 47 per cent in the wages paid to working people, but the startling point for the comparison in 1853 was very low, St. Etienne, where I have lived for three years, is a great industrial center; it is the Pittsburgh of France. There are many industries here, the leading ones being iron, coal and the manufacture of fine arms and ribbons. In spite of official statistics, I am able to state that a skilled workman here earns on an average less than $400 a year. In round figures 1,800 francs is what an expert weaver, owning his own loom and furnishing his own power, earns.

Unskilled labor is paid by the municipality 53 cents a day. How can a man support a wife and three children when his total earnings for the year, assuming that he has 300 days, amount to $172? This is a really terrible state of men have to face in France and in Europe. The fact that socialism is spreading indicates that the spirit of discontent is growing among the working class.

When one considers that in a population of 35,000,000 the number of persons engaged in agriculture, commerce and other industries exceeds 30,000,000 and that there are no more than 2,500,000 of independent means, it is perhaps easy to see how the majority is led by a very small minority.

The revolutionary and socialist tendencies in France are of course a danger, but not as yet a grave one. The power of the socialists is not proportionate to the noise they make, and the weight of the conservative forces must be taken into account.

As yet no very large number of farmers and farm laborers have gone into the labor unions. The farmer is as a rule unfriendly to socialistic agitators.

There are in France too much trucking to the demands of professional agitators, and too many of these loud voiced professors of discontent stand on the outside of party walls. They can do harm and harm the cause of honest workmen.

The moment a strike occurs in France, where there are a few hundred people concerned, all of the "professional laboring men" rush to the spot and take the management of affairs into their own hands, while the real workmen, with perhaps a real grievance, shrink into the background. Some of the agitators are, in every case, members of parliament, and they try to make all the trouble possible for the authorities. They endeavor to persuade the men that public sentiment is with them and to encourage them to prolong the strike and strike. Inflammatory addresses are made, and the speakers are much talked about in the papers, which is one end they have in view.

The French government takes part in the settlement of all strikes, and a ministry may overthrow, as was that of Loubet, because of its weak interference. In the case of the Camus strikes of last summer, 2,000 men struck off the government and its plan of settlement was completed and its final reward work on pretty much their own terms.

NYE WRITES TO A SON

William Plays the Chesterfield Act and Gives a Nice, Wholesome Letter From a Father.

He Tells How He Stood by Henry, While the Latter Was Away From Home.

The Time to Have Your Eyes Wide Open is When You Are Going to Marry.

[Copyright, 1893, by Edgar W. Nye.]

BUCK SHOALS, N. C., August.
MY DEAR HENRY—Your kind letter came yesterday, and so it when I went to "mail it." We had hoped, you know, and me, that you would spend your vacation here or home with us this year in the mountains, but you seem to prefer your younger comrades from college, because they must of course just naturally know more than us old people here that has no advantages.

WITH THE FRUIT TREE MAN.

You know just as well as I do, Henry, that I've stood by you and paid everything from having a dollar beefsteak ready to put on your eye whenever you got into trouble even to getting you properly matriulated. I don't blame you, you know, that you accept opportunities from wealthy people to come and spend your summers with their sons, learning to smoke, the French brief pipe with a mouth that makes a rising in your cheek, but in that part of your letter where you ask for more means you pierce me to the heart.

Could you not come home and spend your vacation where there's naught to make afraid—where we will give you your victuals and exercise for nothing? There with the wealthy, as you say, you have to spend some money to keep up your end of the business. Of course, if they ask you what you'll have, I'd like to have you ask them what they'll have. But now, honest, don't it look kind of scandalous for me and your mother to be here, year in and year out, eating plain victuals and wearing out your old clothes while you are having a sort of inter-tite type of it with the wealthy? Naturally you are a good, solid boy, and not bad looking nor bad behaved, and you're good at school.

With me I mean by that is that you've got no inherited traits whatever. Your father never took a glass of liquor till he was one and twenty, and then purely by accident, and your mother's folks are all abstainers. I never see such moral people as they are. They never use tobacco in any form, and the only three times that I have taken liquor myself was when you was born, when peace was declared in 1865, and when Sullivan was drugged by Corbett and then drugged out of the ring by the heels. I've had to take a year to convince your mother's folks that I was not continually under the influence of rum.

Your mother's family is so good that they'd be real good if they didn't know they was so blamed good.

But you must not try to be so good as they are. I have been happier and better since I gave it up. One day a great joy came to me, and I said to myself, "Be of good cheer. You cannot be so good as your wife's folks." No man was ever so good as his wife's folks. Give it up. It will drive you to drink. Do the best you can, and, verily, you will be surprised." So a great wad of peace seemed to settle down on me, and I am indeed blessed.

All of our folks, though, have been plain, honest, hand to mouth people. You are the first one to go to college and find out the weak places in the Scriptures.

You are the smartest young man that we have seen in many of our monotonous generations, and knew more about things when you was a freshman than any one in the whole history of our race, including your mother's folks. For 400 years you have called the world a fish tank, family, though there was three generations of whalers on my side and two on your mother's that didn't know any better.

You speak in your letter of two matters that are bothering you—first, the love of a very beautiful girl, whose diaphanous you inclose, and, second, the need of $67 to buy a rowing machine with.

Possibly it would be as well to refer to the money matter first.

You have always been frank with me, Henry, especially about money matters. That has made me hustle more than I otherwise would have done. So I will be frank with you. If you can get along without the rowing machine, I wish you would. I make no bones of telling you that times was never scarcer than at present.

Back after bank departs.

Who hath not lost a bank?

I have already begun to economize in every possible way. Last winter I went without an overcoat and wore your sweater to church. This summer I've wore your tennis cap when I went out anywhere, and it is not always appropriate. It looked odd on old man Taylor's when I was a polisher last week, but I love to make sacrifices for my boy in order that he can get refined and matriculated and graduated and hazed. All these things fit you in future life for keeping store and an inside job, whereas I have had to work in the hot sun and the frost for 35 years come April next.

The question of finance I have studied what time I've had this summer, and it's the fact that unless I can issue silver certificates payable in one, two, three and four years your rowing machine is out of the question.

Here is the state of the country as I get it laid down in the papers. I will write it to you:

The consumption of silver by those who are wealthy has caused a shortage among those that is poor. This, with the exception of gold, at all times when the latter demands high prices, makes a person leave his place and go to the banks for the circulating medium called full of mortgages, trust deeds and saddle watches on which banks cannot realize, and poor people that have been so honest that they have had to beg or borrow of the banks that have loaned all their money on additions so far down town that a business man can only go there on Sunday, and some has to take a vacation to get home if he lives in an addition.

Also one paper goes on to say that the engorgement of the channels of trade with overproduction of uncared increment over the percentage of former years, and making the bimetallic and bimetallic subservient to gold and the reserve of gold and paper money the general funeral of currency and noticeable hesitation to go to work, causing the sense of mourning together with shrinkage of products of things you have got, while things that you want real bad become suddenly of great value, causing what you might call stagnation of satisfaction and a general revival of sadness in the realms of traffic.

That's the way I find it, and hence I say, let me think no more of the rowing machine. I find that the muscles called into play in hoeing corn are the same, and you get the exercise for the lower extremities also at the same price without wearing out the seat of your pants, which you now call trousers, I notice with great pain.

I wish that you would consider this matter in its true light, and if you could come home before the fall term begins you would get a glad welcome from the dog and your mother and me also. We miss you terribly, but you can see that you have sort of outgrown your small and easy in society, which I never was.

I can see how advanced you are and easy and comfortable, and you can sing college songs. Even if the president was in the room you would not give a damn. It must be pleasant to be that way, while I can't be comfortable in the room with a well dressed lightning rod man, and about all I can do when a fruit tree comes and has confidence in himself is to sit there and crack my knuckles and buy a bunch of trees that I don't want.

On I know that you are an ornament to the aforesaid of wealth and that houses where you go and stay all night have hired men to pass the victuals that would make your poor old father mortified nearly to death with his inferiority and swiftness in mystery.

No young woman will ever be quite good enough to marry without the difference. Your mother, for instance, that a wife suitable for you does not treat shoe leather, but goes barefoot along the parapets of the sky, and at night with her long white wings and plain blanched muslin robes soars away to her own little pigeon house in the sky.

That's your mother all over. She loves you more than any white flannel girl from Long Branch, Henry. She will love you even if you get to cutting up.

Tell her right out flat footed that you lack a year of knowing anything, and that your mother is wearing your last year private theatrical clothes on cold days so that you can be warm and rest.

Also find out if she is worthy. You need not wait for the information to do or look up her father's name on the judgment docket of his town, but just notice her among the other girls and you'll find out things about her that will be a revelation to you. You know, that Heine says, "Every man who marries is like the dog who weds the Adriatic sea," and that's a fact, too, Henry. She's Christian Endeavor Is a Science.

Our interest in Christian Endeavor and our efficiency in the work are likely to be proportionate to our intelligence in regard to it. It is well to know something of the history of Christian Endeavor and to keep ourselves informed in regard to the present progress of the work. But aside from this there is something to be learned in regard to the principles of Christian Endeavor and to the methods of Endeavor work.

Christian Endeavor is a science, and every Endeavor should make this a study. He should interest himself in regard to the methods that have proved the most effective. He should profit by the experience and knowledge of those who have gone before him. This is essential not only to our intelligence and interest in the work, but also to our efficiency as Endeavorers.—National Presbyterian.

Lots of beautiful women are there.

Henry, but I would care to be the feature of a beautiful woman.

In my palmy days I owned a handsome fast mare, and in our neighborhood I was known as the man that owned that mare.

That was all. If I tried to harness her, she kicked nine kinds of talents out of me. Nobody knew my name, but they all knew where the mare lived, and sometimes they would ask me to show her to them, and they would admire and criticize her and' give me 29 cents and go away.

The time to have your eyes open, says an able woman, is when you are going to marry.

After that you partially close them.

All these things, Henry, are in the world, advice free, at all times when the laws demand it.

That experience is at your service, Henry.

Do not think that because you are a little foolish at times that I am an ass.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Beginning Aug. 6. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

TOPIC.—The blessedness of giving. ACTS xx. 35. "He that soweth sparingly, shall also reap sparingly; and he that soweth bountifully, shall also reap bountifully."

The blessedness of giving as well as the justice of giving may be questioned by some.

It seems scarcely right for one who has toiled and labored in accumulating wealth to spend it on others, and that there should be pleasure or blessing in the spending seems even less probable.

Yet it was the Divine Teacher Himself who said to His disciples at some time unknown, "It is more blessed to give than to receive" (Acts xx. 35).

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the Tribune from San Francisco says: The looting of the Pacific bank of San Francisco by the sons of old Dr. R. H. McDonald has caused a sensation here. The failure of the bank was not alone with more than $1,000,000 loaned on poor securities and speculative investments, but the examination of the bank commissioners has brought to light gross peculations that may yet land the guilty persons in state prison. The two brothers have obtained from the bank within four years fully $800,000, for which there is nothing to show.

It has also been discovered that just before the bank was suspended, young Richard secured accounts and easily convertible bonds amounting to $70,000 and that this sum was paid to him by his father, Dr. McDonald's confidential clerk, A. L. Jenkins. The only security for this money is old Dr. McDonald's real estate, which was supposed to be good for some of the bank's debts. As this property had been used as collateral, the doctor's brother was unable to buy the bank, burdened of responsibility; Daniel Meyer, another heavy stockholder, last year assigned all his holdings to a nephew in order to escape responsibility.

LIMA, O., Aug. 7.—A gang of half a hundred men took possession of east-bound passenger train No. 3 due here at 10 o'clock yesterday on the Pennsylvania road when the train stopped at Dolphus, a small station west of this city, and would not allow the train employees to molest them or put them off. They filled the coaches and defied everyone.

At the first station out a telegram was sent here to the police to meet the train, which was done, and when the fellows were taken, the others breaking through the ranks and escaping with cut and bruised heads. The men were workmen who were thrown out of employment by the recent financial trouble in the West, and are on their way East in search of work. They are without money and are a desperate lot of dangerous fel-

They Crashed Into a Freight and Five People Were Killed.

CLEVELAND, Aug. 7.—When train No. 9 of the Lake Shore road for Chicago reached Lindsay Saturday night, the sleeping cars left the track and crashed into a freight train that was waiting for the passenger train to pass. The first passenger car was the safest, but the sleeping cars rolled over the track a long distance, finally sweeping from their course and hit the engine of the freight train with tremendous force. The sleeping cars were reduced to kindling wood. Following is a list of the dead and injured.

Killed.—E. LaFerty, engineer of the freight train, Elyria, Ohio; Chas. Spain, brakeman of the freight train, Clayville, N. Y.; Robertson, a porter of sleepers, Buffalo, residence unknown.

Fatal injury to Professor E. B. Emer- son, an atheist, of Manchester, Mass.,—Pelham, porter of sleeping car Orinoco, residence unknown.

Seriously injured.—J. B. Hamilton, Pittsburgh, Pa., injured internally; Bruno Kneller, Cleveland, Ohio, injured about the head; J. H. West, Chicago, injured about the head; M. Kitteridge, a porter of the Chicago base ball club, badly cut about the head and body; M. Kitteridge, catcher Chicago base ball club, badly cut about the head.

The members of the Chicago base ball club, however, were not injured.

There was the loss on the train, and to this fact they owe their safety. Ryan, left fielder, and Kitteridge, the best catcher, were cut terribly and bled profusely. Other members of the team were bruised and cut, but not so as to interfere with the continuance of their journey.

A Terrible Accident on the St. Paul & Duluth Near White Bear.

ST. PAUL, Aug. 7.—A terrible fatality occurred at Delwood on White Bear lake between 11 and 12 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Paul, Mrs. E. P. Clouse, and Mrs. J. P. Nordstrom, all of St. Paul, went out in the morning to visit and spend the day with the family of Mr. Neustrum, decorative painter in the employ of the St. Paul & Duluth near White Bear.

The horse of Mr. St. Paul ladies went out upon the lake to fish and Mr. Neustrum joined the animal, but in spite of his efforts just as the train was approaching the horse plunged upon the track and the terribly fatal result followed. All of the parties were instantly killed except the child, which was thrown some distance but escaped substantially uninjured. The horse was also killed.

competition to take a trip to Europe to recuperate. All three were justified in refusing to jump off the stage and meet challengers for two reasons—first, because such action would involve a considerable monetary sacrifice, and second, because none of the trio would have the same advantages as their adversaries at the outset—health, strength and vitality. Each of them had to undergo a period of time before starting in to train, and the other chaps would have the best of it at least four or six weeks, the time required by the actor pugilists to get into shape for training. For that and other reasons I decided to meet Johnny Griffen, Sol Smith, Joaquin, Van Fleet and other challengers until the expiration of my theatrical contract.

All the training and instruction in the world, however, will not make a man a pugilist. A natural born fighter can improve wonderfully under the tutelage of a skillful boxer. An instructor like Jim Corbett, Peter Jackson or Mike Donovan could give the average fighter points that would be invaluable to him. They could teach him that he never fights alone. And here let me say that a single blow often ends a fight at once or subdues an adversary as to end all hopes of victory.

The Work Before Congress.
The extra session of congress convened today. It is safe to say that for many years has any session excited such widespread public interest as does this one. The eyes of all the people are turned toward Washington, waiting to see what congress will do towards alleviating the present financial stringency that has demoralized the business of the country and thrown thousands of men out of work.

The repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman law has been demanded by the business men of the country as the quickest and surest cure for our financial complaint. It is believed that a majority of both the senate and house are ready to vote for the repeal of this law, but the minority is strong and determined to secure the passage of a compromise measure which will recognize silver in some manner.

Among those who have recently announced that they do not favor the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law and the consequent establishment of monometalism in the shape of a gold standard is Senator Davis, of this state. The senator believes that silver should be given its proper value as a circulating medium. He therefore stands, with many others, on middle ground in regard to this question. He neither assents on the one hand to the narrow views of the monometalists, nor on the other hand does he coincide with the vagaries of the ultra-silverites. He believes that congress should devise some feasible plan for circulating silver with gold and maintaining it on a parity with the precious metal.

The recent speech of the Hon. A. J. Balfour, the British Conservative leader, in favor of a double monetary standard shows that the gold standard men do not control the political parties in England. Mr. Balfour favors an international agreement fixing a ratio of value between gold and silver. It is his belief that a gold standard will not satisfy the demands and necessities of commerce, that a double standard alone will prevent dangerous oscillations in trade, and he took pains to deny that the advocates of this theory aimed at an inflation of the currency. This is the judgment of an able and patriotic Britisher, who is not unlikely to be premier of his country in the near future, and his declaration must receive careful consideration.

It was reported a few days ago that President Cleveland had made the statement that an international agreement to maintain silver on a parity with gold would be reached before the beginning of next year. Certainly there are a sufficient number of patriotic and enlightened public men, both in this country and in England, who are strong supporters of bimetallism, to show that the universal sentiment is not by any means in favor of a single standard. One thing seems advisable on the part of congress, that is to repeal the Sherman law. Then it may be well to consider what legislation shall be adopted to maintain silver in its proper place as a circulating medium. If an international agreement can be reached on this subject, the whole question would be settled and the monetary difficulties, which now afflict the whole world, would disappear forever.

For Another Year.
The report again comes from Chicago that the directors of the World's fair are considering the advisability of continuing several of the most attractive departments for another year. These departments would include those of fine arts, fisheries, horticulture and some others.

There are many strong reasons why this plan should be pursued. The time allotted for the regular term of the fair has been too short to permit all the people who desire to see the great exposition in all its branches. The financial depression this summer has likewise prevented many people from attending, when under ordinary circumstances they would have spent several weeks at the fair. This fact has also kept down the receipts of the fair, which were still further reduced by very bad weather during the opening month, keeping people away from the grounds.

If it were possible to retain several of the most attractive departments for another year, the results could not fail to be beneficial.

The President's Message.

It is expected that President Cleveland's message will be sent to congress at noon tomorrow, in which event it will appear in the Herald tomorrow evening. There is much speculation as to the exact character of the message, but according to information from the most reliable sources it will advocate the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law.

This will be in line with Mr. Cleveland's record on this question in 1885, just before his inauguration, he addressed a letter to Hon. A. J. Warner and other members of congress, warning them that a financial crisis was impending under the operation of the act of congress of Feb. 18, 1885. Mr. Cleveland then recommended the suspension of the purchase and coining of silver as the only way to prevent the increasing displacement of gold by the increasing coining of silver, to maintain the parity between the two metals and to prevent the ultimate expulsion of gold by silver. He closed with the warning that unless this was done the time would come when there would be a financial crisis, which would involve every state in the union in trouble which would be felt in commercial circles, and he said, "saddest of all, in every workshop, mill, factory, store and on every railroad and farm, the wages of labor, already depressed, would suffer still further depression by a scaling down of the purchasing power of every so-called dollar paid into the hand of toil." That letter was prophetic, the evils having come after the passage of the Sherman law.

The repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman law has been demanded by the business men of the country as the quickest and surest cure for our financial complaint. It is believed that a majority of both the senate and house are ready to vote for the repeal of this law, but the minority is strong and determined to secure the passage of a compromise measure which will recognize silver in some manner.

Among those who have recently announced that they do not favor the unconditional repeal of the Sherman law and the consequent establishment of monometalism in the shape of a gold standard is Senator Davis, of this state. The senator believes that silver should be given its proper value as a circulating medium. He therefore stands, with many others, on middle ground in regard to this question. He neither assents on the one hand to the narrow views of the monometalists, nor on the other hand does he coincide with the vagaries of the ultra-silverites. He believes that congress should devise some feasible plan for circulating silver with gold and maintaining it on a parity with the precious metal.

A n interesting experiment. A novel scheme has been adopted at Ashland, Kas., the inception of which is due to the financial stringency. The people have decided to get even with the hard times by closing all of their churches but one, thus doing away with six superfluous clergymen. The result of this novel move will be awaited with interest. Its success or failure will depend, of course, upon the pastor that has been retained. It is said that he is under bond to avoid doctrinal sermons, and confine himself to dispensing the "pure milk of the Word." That is a hard thing for any preacher to do, and the difficulties attending such a sacrifice of opinions are accentuated in Kansas, where the people are as tenacious about their religious views as they are about their political principles.

According to the Kansas City Star the minister who has charge of "the work" is a Methodist, and that renders the experiment all the more interesting. If he can get through the financial squeeze without instituting some odious comparisons between John Wesley and John Calvin and Martin Luther and Alexander Campbell, he will solve not only an important economic problem, but will open great and harmonious possibilities in the realm of spiritual grace.

If this pastor can adjust his discourses to the varying tastes of his diversified flock, he will have accomplished wonders, and if the brethren can dwell together in unity on this plan, why may it not be possible for them to reach an understanding on doctrinal points and thus make their church union complete?

It has taken the World's fair authorities three months to discover that the dances in Midway Plaisance are naughty and should be suppressed. If the fair managers have grown tired of seeing these terpsichorean reveries, they should remember that many more people are contemplating a trip to the fair and are prepared to be shocked also.

The steamer Karanamia from the Mediterranean is detained at quarantine in New York, while the health authorities are investigating three mysterious deaths which occurred on board under circumstances suggesting cholera. This suggests the fact that every city in this country should be on guard against cholera. The best way to prevent it is to keep the cities clean.

Concessions will please the people greatly if it will promptly settle down to business and do something besides talking.

Since the death of his father, which occurred some months ago, Governor McKinley has decided to drop the "Jr." from his name, which will appear on the election tickets in Ohio next fall as plain

William McKinley. The governor is still on the sunny side of 50, but age is beginning to show itself in his appearance.

The board of lady managers of the World's fair has been making another sorry exhibition of itself. For their own sake, the good sisters should always go into executive session, lock the door and plug the keyhole. Then they can call each other names and pull hair without making a public show of themselves.

Senator John Sherman, who has saved about $30,000,000 in ten years on the part of the fair, which were still further reduced by very bad weather during the opening month, keeping people away from the grounds.

If it were possible to retain several of the most attractive departments for another year, the results could not fail to be beneficial.

LOOKS LIKE FORGERY.

J. B. Dunham Will be Required to do Some Satisfactory Explaining.

J. B. Dunham, a young man of about

19 years, was arrested Saturday evening and will probably be required to answer to a charge of forgery. He came into the Great Eastern clothing store, made up a purchase and presented a check for $50 no paper. The check was signed by James E. York, of the Ironton Structural Steel company, and was drawn on the First National bank. The firm thought the check suspicious and refused to cash it. Later on an officer of the National Guard was seen in the store and said that Mr. York kept no account with his institution and that the check must be forged. The police were notified and Dunham was jailed at midnight.

No complaint being made against

Dunham, he was released today, it is said that when he here will get the young man out of town by sending him to Chicago. Chet Horgan states that West Superior and West Duluth are being flooded with bogus checks but that so far none of them seem to be the work of Dunham, although an officer came up from West Duluth today with several for the purpose of comparison.

LAND OFFICE RULING

Acting United States Land Commissioner Bowers Renders a Decision in the Stephens Tract Case.

The Settlement of J. Micks Was Contested and the Government Issued No Patent.

Stephens Asked For a Reinstatement of the Entry, But the Commissioner Refuses It.

The decision of Acting United States Land Commissioner Bowers, under date of August 2, in the case of Chas. C. McIver, administrator of the estate of Henry Stevens and John C. C. Fletcher, transferee, vs. Myron W. Fields, was received this morning. This is a case in which application was made by the plaintiff for the reinstatement of cancelled land entry. No. 2029 of John Micks, N 1/2 ne 1/4 and nw 1/4, se 1/4 and se 1/4, nw 1/4 section 33, township 59, range 15 west, being a part of what is known as the Stephens tract.

John Micks filed his declaratory statement April 12, 1881, alleging settlement April 16, 1881. He made final proof Nov. 10, 1881, and on the same day final re-ported that the record was received by the patent office. The patent office rejected the application for the reason that the title to the land was held by the heirs of the deceased, and was then sold to Morris Thomas, who, in 1883, sold it and several other tracts to Henry Stephens, giving a warranty deed, representing, so the Stephens' heirs allege, that the patent would be along in due time and agreeing to make good any loss that might occur.

The patent never came, but on the other hand the claimants further allege, Thomas set men about to contest Micks' entry. One field started the contest in 1888, a hearing was ordered for June 5, 1889, upon an affidavit from Fields al-leging fraud in Micks' entry, which would, of course, invalidate the transfer to Thomas.

The case is a complicated one and involves land of considerable value. The representatives of Stephens' interest asked a reinstatement of the entry of Micks on grounds that the notice of contest was never legally served, alleging that Stephens died about four years before the contest.

The acting commissioner's decision is of considerable length, reviews the history of the case, enters into a discussion of the claimants and the application of the law and ends up by denying the application of the transferees for a reinstatement.

LEAPED INTO THE AIR

Three Men Tried to Beat all Previous Records of Speed in Descending Pike's Peak.

They Started on a Railroad Toboggan on the Cog Road and it Jumped the Rails.

The Brake Became Useless and the Three Men Shot Down the Incline With a Rush.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A Sun's special from Colorado Springs, Col., says: Yesterday Richard Woods, a Manitou hill driver, and two other men tried to beat all previous records of speed in descending Pike's peak on a contrivance called the toboggan by the railroad men. This consists of a flat board nailed over a groove, which fits closely on the rack rail of the cog road.

Below Windy point there is a sharp turn at the top of Son-of-a-Gun hill, the steepest point of the whole road. Here the board has been greased, for the toboggan will go down faster, down the incline beyond all control. At the first sight turn the flat board jumped from the rails, leaping into the air for a fearful distance and throwing the three men away out over the mountain.

None of the men struck the earth within thirty feet of the track, and one of them, Wood, landed fully seventy-five feet away. The surface there is entirely of rough, broken rock with jagged edges. The men struck on this, being terribly cut and bruised. All three may die.

HE MADE HIS ESCAPE.

A Clever Trick Played by a Convict in Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 8.—Last night C. O. Summers, a railroad detective, who was placed in the penitentiary last February for five years for robbing the Southern Express company at Meridian of $5000, played a clever trick on a newly appointed guard and escaped.

The guard, who was enclosed by a twenty-foot brick wall, Summers went to the wall and calling to Henry Riley, the guard, said: "Sergeant Lary says come down and let me take your gun on the wall." Riley dropped the keys, unlocked the door and mounted the wall, while Riley went after the sergeant and inquired what he was wanted.

The sergeant quickly saw through the trick, but before he could reach the wall Summers had donned the guard's extra suit and escaped.

LOST A VALUABLE PACKAGE.

A Chicago Cashier Lost a Package Containing Money and Checks.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—While Lawrence Austrian, cashier of the People's Outfitting company, was speeding on his bicycle yesterday on his way to the Chicago National bank to deposit $1600 in a safe, he lost a package containing checks, the package containing the money slipped from the handle of his machine and fell to the street.

Austrian missed the package a few minutes after it dropped and retracing his course last night he found a 12-year-old boy had found the package. After examining it had surrendered it on demand to a man whose name is not known.

The police have an imperfect description of the man and are endeavoring to discover his identity. Austrian will make the loss good should the police be unable to recover the money.

SAIGON, Aug. 8.—Two hundred French sharpshooters have left this place en route to Chanthaburi, the town near the Gulf of Siam, which the French intend to occupy temporarily in accordance with the terms of the supplementary ultimatum recently accepted by the Siamese government.

The French will also occupy the river upon which Chanthaburi is situated. The town lies 155 miles southeast of Bangkok and is a very considerable trade with China.

Dr. Shaw's Wedding.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—The date of the marriage of Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Shaw, editor of the Review of Reviews, whose engagement to Miss Jessie Bacon, of Reading, Pa., was recently announced, has been set for Sept. 5. They will go to Europe on a wedding journey.

A PARADE OF UNEMPLOYED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Arrangements are being made in this city for a parade of the unemployed. It will probably take place next week. Christopher Evans, president of the American Federation of Labor, said to a reporter yesterday that about 100,000 men are out of work in this city. This includes non-union men, as well as men in all the various organizations.

May Not Game Back.

A letter secured in this city from New York states that Arthur E. Miller is going on the road ahead of his brother's company playing "The Golden Wedding" and will not return to Duluth. F. J. Marsh says that Mr. Miller has not given up his lease and he believes that the story is untrue.

Notice.

Mayor d'Autremont requests all the aldermen to be at the common chamber tomorrow. Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, to elect a board of commissioners for the purpose of contriving means to give work and support to the unemployed laborers of Duluth and vicinity.

PIERCE WAS OUTCLASSED.
Dixon Easly Knocked Him Out in the Third Round.

CONEY ISLAND, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Between 8000 and 10,000 people gathered at the Coney Island Athletic club last night. Jim Corbett was present and was given a great ovation. The preliminary bout between Murphy and McBride for a purse of $1000 resulted in a victory for McBride.

Then came the main event of the evening. At 8:30 Tom O'Rourke entered the ring followed by George Dixon, the Boston boxer, both men with mauls, but the maul went off when Ed Pierce climbed on the stage. It was a Pierce audience. The purse fought for $6500, of which the loser received $500.

The fight did not last long. Pierce being easily outclassed. In the first round Dixon caught Pierce on the wind twice and sparring followed, after which Dixon again punched Eddie three times. The second round was tame, Pierce landing lightly on Dixon's face. The third round was a real battle, with both men sending his punches flying, replying to Pierce's wind and jaw, knocking him silly. He went down and out after repeated jabs on the jaw that would have settled a stronger man than Pierce.

AGAINST A STATE ELEVATOR.

Temporary Injunction Restraining the Warehouse Commission.

Mr. PAUL, Aug. 8.—[Special to The Herald.]—Henry Rippe this morning secured a temporary injunction against the railroad and warehouse commission and the state auditor to prevent the doing of the state elevator.

The commissioners are ordered to appear before Judge Kelly in the district court on Aug. 16 to show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

Rippe is a grain dealer at Fairmount and claims the state elevator law is unconstitutional because it taxes one class of citizens exclusively to build a public building and have the state go into business in competition with grain men, to their injury.

Ex-Attorney General Wilson, of Minneapolis, is Rippe's attorney.

MURDERED FOUR CHILDREN.

Terrible Deed of a Railroad Man, Who Then Suicided.

SLATER, Aug. 8.—John Finn, a railroad man living here, murdered his four children and committed suicide this morning. It is believed he was temporarily insane.

The Finns reside at 2304 Chouteau avenue. Mr. Finn has been very sick from bilious fever for some time past.

He has been confined to bed and has been unable to get up for a week. His wife, a widow, injured his two young boys. He then grasped a carving knife and horribly cut and mangled his two little daughters.

Believing that he had killed the four little children, Finn drew the blade across his throat, inflicting a wound from which he soon died. The injuries to the children are of such a nature that they will die.

W. K. ROGERS DEAD.

He Passed Away Saturday at Columbus—Was Well Known Here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8.—The house was called to order promptly at noon and prayer was offered by the newly-elected chaplain, Rev. Dr. Hayes. The sermon which was rather lengthy, was delivered by Mr. Rogers, who had been a resident of the city for many years.

Mr. Rogers was living in Hastings at the time he was appointed private secretary to President Hayes. Both Dr. Hayes and Rogers were classmates of Hayes, and one was made commissioner of the railroad, chief of the land office, and the other secretary to the president's secretary. After President Hayes' term expired, Mr. Rogers settled in Columbus, having made quite a competency out of his interests in the Hastings & Dakota railway, chief of the land office, and the grant of the railroads.

The deceased was well known in Duluth, at one time having had his residence at Oneonta. About two years ago he retired from a membership on the city park board. He was in Duluth not many weeks ago and was one of Mrs. Hayes' guests in her home. Col. Le Due was president and Rogers secretary. CASHED THE CHECKS.

Dan Hannaford Was Too Accommodating and Now Lies in Jail.

Yesterday morning a French boy who goes by the name of Butler, had in his possession $500 worth of checks, which he had obtained from the bank, and he was about to cash them when he was accosted by Dan Hannaford, who followed him to attend to that part. Butler told him he would give $1 to get the checks cashed, whereupon Hannaford took the papers, went into a saloon and instead of cashing in went straight out the back door. The boy followed him and lost track of the matter and last evening Detective Kenner found the slippery chap over at Superior. One check had been cashed on Rice's Point in a saloon across the street. The boy was arrested in the police station. Most of the money had been spent. Hannaford was brought back about 6 o'clock last evening here and now languishes in the jail.

Clow-Wallbanks Wedding.

Tomorrow evening will be celebrated the marriage of Wallace P. Wallbanks, well known by his connection with the Clegg-Orway company, of this city, to Miss Jessie Clegg. The wedding will take place at the residence of the bride's mother, 101 East Fifth street, and Rev. E. M. Noes will perform the ceremony.

The bride will be attended by Miss Hattie Wallbanks of Milwaukee, while the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Clegg, will be a bridesmaid. The young couple will leave on the evening train for Chicago and will visit the World's fair during their honeymoon. A number of friends from the East will be present at the wedding.

THROUGH THE HEART.

Miss Mary T. Derby, a Well Known Society Lady of Washington, Committed Suicide in Chicago.

She Had Been Troubled With Insomnia and Frequently Said She Wished She Were Dead.

Some Time During Last Evening She Shot Herself With a Revolver Through the Heart.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Miss Mary T. Derby shot herself through the heart some time last evening in her apartments at 33 Forty-sixth street, the home of W. A. Shaw, where she was visiting in company with her brother-in-law, Capt. Black, of the United States army. Miss Derby was a resident of Washington, from which place she had come for the purpose of visiting the fair.

In company with Capt. Black, she reached the city a week ago and had since been staying at the above number by the young army officer. Capt. Black, who had been troubled with insomnia and sleeplessness had the effect been upon her, that she had more than once wished she were dead. While suffering from this malady, Miss Derby unquestionably determined upon her rash deed.

When her body was found in her room at 9 o'clock, indications were given that she had been dead for several hours. In her right hand she clutched a small 32-caliber revolver. The bullet had gone squarely through the heart and the skin was blackened with the stains of powder. Death was due to her circumstances.

Miss Derby was the daughter of the late Gen. Derby, of the United States army, and lived with her brother, Capt. George W. Derby, in Washington, D. C. She was 31 years of age and had spent much of her life at the national capital, where her brother is stationed and where her mother lived several years before his death.

She was well known in army circles throughout the country and had spent several weeks at West Point during the commencement exercises of this year. After the coroner's inquest, the remains will be shipped to Washington for burial.

BOTH WERE FOUND GUILTY.

Ducret and Norton Convicted of Forgery of Treasonable Documents.

PARIS, Aug. 8.—The jury in the case of Ducret and Norton has returned a verdict of guilty against both of the defendants. Norton, who is a mulatto, was indicted for forging the documents, which it was claimed had been stolen from the British embassy in Paris during the absence of Lord Dufferin, the British ambassador, purposed to show that certain Frenchmen high in official life had sold state secrets to the British government, their alleged acts, if true, constituting treason.

M. Ducret, who is the editor of the Boulangier organ, the Cercle, was charged with complicity in the forgeries. The trial began Saturday and the evidence clearly showed that the papers in question were clumsy forgeries. Norton confessed that he had forged them and implicated Ducret.

The jury was but a short time in arriving at a verdict, and the court at once sentenced Norton to three years imprisonment. Ducret was sentenced for one year. M. Ducret has appealed to the court of cassation against his sentence.

America's Great Danger

AN ENGLISH COMMENTARY.

Said an eminent English scientist recently: "The danger that confronts the great American people to-day is not the possible adoption of a wrong financial policy for the nation, or the spread of socialism, or the effects of competition among the nations. All these are trifles to be set aside. They are as nothing compared to the terrible national disease—I had almost said national crime—of overwork. The mad rush for wealth is set at a killing pace, and thousands fall by the way every year."

You are likely to be one of the victims!

How do we know? Because it is the exception to find a man or woman of adult age in perfect health. Nervous Disorders are spreading like a fatal malady. And the symptoms are—Bacchitis, Epilepsy, Cold Hands and Feet, Dizziness, Hot Flashes, Fluttering Sensation, Fainting, Headache, Hysteria, Irritability of the Heart, Melancholy, Failing Memory, Palpitation, Rheumatism, Short Breath, Sleeplessness, Nervousness, etc.

Rev. G. A. Carroll, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system. I have not found its equal in giving immediate relief. Dr. Miles' Little Nerve and Liver Pill is need a trifle and will recommend themselves to be the best pills in the market."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration, I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine gave me relief and one thousand dollars would not cover the good it has done me. JOHN MINCHEE, Youngstown, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unequalled in curing Nervous Diseases. It contains no opium or dangerous drugs. Sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

ALL REPORT POOR LUCK.

The Sealers on the Japanese Coast Make Small Catches.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 8.—The schooner May Bell arrived yesterday from the Japanese coast. From the middle of June to the time of sailing she got only forty-seven skins off Copper island, which she left July 10 after meeting the Viva which transferred 145 skins. The May Bell reported 145 skins, and 2000 skins and was returning home short of provisions.

The American sealers report poor luck, with the exception of the Alexander and Oliver. The former captured many seals, but out of ill luck. The entire take around Copper island was not than 1200, and many have taken less than 100 to 100, the average being less than 500.

HE MAY BE LYNCHED.

The Assailant of a Small Girl May Be Hanged in Illinois.

ROCHELLE, Ill., Aug. 8.—James Burns assaulted a 7-year-old girl of Frank Pusill, a Northwestern brakeman, yesterday afternoon. A small brother of the girl gave the alarm. The mother came to the rescue and Burns ran away and hid. He was located near the tile factory by Martin Larsen, who arrested him. He had been fully identified and placed in jail.

Cries of "Hang him" were heard on every side and last night a close watch was kept to prevent lynching. The girl's father says he will shoot Burns on sight. Unless secretly taken away, Burns probably will be lynched.

FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE.

Chicago Real Estate Men Swindle Customers and Skip.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—Altemer William L. Kamlering, of the Fourteenth ward, and Arthur N. Demarest, his partner in the real estate business, disappeared three weeks ago, taking with them about $2000 belonging to their customers.

The two men are fugitives from justice, and the police authorities are waiting for an opportunity to serve warrants for their arrest without awaiting the trial of O. F. Hollister, the Karpoff and others. The last seen of Kamlering and Demarest in this city was on the day of their assignment about three weeks ago.

BLOODY BATTLE EXPECTED.

Three White Caps Killed by the Conrads in Indiana.

CORVON, Ind., Aug. 8.—The White Caps of Boone township burned the house of the Conrads last night. Yesterday three riderless horses, owned by the White Caps, John Kendall, William Fish and William Hobell—were found. It is thought that the owners were in ambush and everybody was armed. The Conrads are asking relatives to help them and a bloody battle is expected in the next twenty-four hours.

ANNEXATION WILL RESULT.

A Hawaiian Who Believes Annexation Must Finally Result.

VICTORIA, B. C., Aug. 8.—John A. Scott, a resident of the Sandwich Islands for fourteen years, passed through here Saturday on his way to Ontario.

He is the manager of a sugar plantation. His view of the opinion of the islands, although a vote of the people would probably show a large majority opposed to such union. The natives will vote for the old monarchy.

He says the provisional government would be best for a few years to give the natives time to acquire confidence in republican institutions.

The Case Was Settled.

CHICAGO, Aug. 8.—The case of the local military organization, known as the militia, which gives performances in the streets during the fair, was again called before Commissioner Hoyne yesterday. The managers had been charged with an infringement of the contract labor law. District Attorney Milchler consented to a dismissal, receiving the promise of the managers to send back to England such members of the company as had been discharged.

Burned to Death.

DECATUR, Ill., Aug. 8.—A gasoline stove exploded yesterday at William Field's residence and set fire to the clothing of Mrs. Henry M. Cosset, who ran screaming into a lot of dry grass where she fell and was burned to death. Her sister, Mrs. Catherine Tombs, had her hands, face and arms shockingly burned, and Mrs. William Field was also seriously injured. Several ladies had narrow escapes.

We ought never to forget, even those who possess vigorous health, that we are wearing out—namely, the vital clock work, so to speak, must eventually run down. This, of course we cannot prevent, because it is in the ordinary course of nature. But we can, by a judicious and speedy arrival of decay by the use of an invigorant which takes rank of every other—namely, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. This century has not witnessed a parallel in success to this famous medicament. It is really superior to all others by promoting vigor, and overcomes constipation, dyspepsia, chills and fever, nervousness, rheumatism, and other disorders.

Rev. G. A. Carroll, pastor First Baptist Church, Yellow Springs, O., writes as follows: "I have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine for the past six months. I find it acts like a charm on the whole nervous system. I have not found its equal in giving immediate relief. Dr. Miles' Little Nerve and Liver Pill is need a trifle and will recommend themselves to be the best pills in the market."

"For five years I have suffered from Nervous Prostration, I was unable to work or sleep. The first dose of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine gave me relief and one thousand dollars would not cover the good it has done me. JOHN MINCHEE, Youngstown, Ohio.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unequalled in curing Nervous Diseases. It contains no opium or dangerous drugs. Sold on a positive guarantee by all druggists, or Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

SEVEN ENTRIES MADE

The Democrat Race for the District Attorney Sweepstakes Promises to be an Exciting Contest.

McCafferty, of St. Paul, Mayor d'Autremont, and Mayor Pfau, of Mankato, are Favorites.

Mike Doran is the Judge of the Race and Will Make the Final Decision.

A Washington special says: "The political sports of Minnesota are about to witness one of the most exciting races that has ever been run since Thomas McDermott was distanced by Pat Kelly's filly, Barclay. The race is the great United States district attorney sweepstakes. The entries embrace the best trained legal luminaries in the paddock of Minnesota. It is free-for-all and 'may the best horse win,' provided he is not too badly handicapped. Already the races are watching the boards and considerable has been staked upon the smallest balances here."

"Seven entries have been made, but before the race comes off several more may be added. The favorite is McCafferty, a St. Paul entry, mounted by that young but nervy and successful jockey, Dan W. Lawler. McCafferty is the favorite with the sports, as is shown by the odds 4 to 5 to win.

Charles d'Autremont, known as the mayor of Duluth, and law partner of Allan W. Thurnau, son of the old Roman, is next. D'Autremont comes from the famous statesmen's stables of New York state, where some of his ancestors have been or will be.

Use Your Money Now, When it Has the Farthest Reach!

Don't buy Trash, as it is always Cheap, but pay Attention to getting what Standard Goods you need or are likely to need. We are taking a loss—a heavy loss—but it is a business necessity, and goes to the gain of our friends, so the end justifies the means.

A Few Slaughtered Prices on Standard Goods as an Illustration of the Cuts in Prices on Everything in the House

Isn't This So?

HENRY CLEWS says, "the common error of the majority is, that they fail to consider that the dollar is only worth what it will buy. During the panic of '73 stocks of all kinds, merchandise of all kinds, and almost everything under the head of necessities, by its decline in price, increased the purchase power of a dollar to almost twice its usual size, thus rendering it the opportune time of all times to use money to the best of advantage, and the CLEVER PEOPLE did take advantage of these circumstances. But on the other hand, thousands held their money hoarded up until times grew better, values raised, everything advanced in price, and then wondered why they did not use their money at the time it would go the farthest," etc. This, any fair-minded person will concede to be a wise, as well as truthful, comment.

We Say

To every customer of this house that this is a time to secure fine goods here, as we have unreservedly cut away a heavy percentage of the price on the best merchandise made in the world.

TESTED THE LADDENS.
New Hook and Ladder Truck Tried—A Fireman Injured.

A public test of the new hook and ladder truck was made yesterday afternoon in presence of the village councilmen. The council transacted but little business last evening when the question was taken up by a heated discussion of the gambling question. On the order of introduction of new business trustee Olafson arose and stated that the village is still harbored gamblers, that their paraphernalia is in and their intention is to start up again immediately. The town, he argued, with fakir who are playing cards every night. The chief of police, he declared, knows that the game has been running nightly. Second street and has taken no steps to stop it. He then made a motion that the chief of police notify all gamblers and dog fighters to leave town or if the order be not obeyed that he be arrested and their goods confiscated.

President Martin took exception to the motion on the ground that the council is nothing to do with the matter and in reference to the affair of the chief executive. Further stated that such motion was a reflection on the chief of police and himself, neither of whom he believed to be aware that any gambling was going on in the town.

At this point then arose to second the motion, saying that when the chief executive and chief of police undertake the running of gambling in a town it is about time for members of the council to take a stand and that the chief of police is not to be further concerned in the running of it.

"That if the chief of police cannot carry out his instructions, that the council charge him and put in one who can will."

At this point things began to simmer and President Martin then argued that there were certain members of the council who were continually trying to stir up a broil and if they wished to keep this fight they could do on with their killing, but that if they stepped on in they would find that they had traded on the wrong party.

At this point the gambling was in the order, the president finally gave a chief of police instructions to close all gambling houses found and to order the proprietors out of town.

REPEAL URGED.

the people have a right to expect from congress, they may certainly demand that the legislation be considered by the order of the year, and disastrous experiments should be removed from the statute books as soon as their representatives can legitimately deal with it.

Tariff Reform Must Wait.

It was my purpose to summon congress in special session early in the coming September, and might enter upon the work of tariff reform, in which the true interests of the country clearly demand, which so large a majority of the people as shown by their suffrage desire and expect, and to the accomplishment of which every effort of the people should be directed.

A Stable Currency Needed.

The people of the United States are entitled to a sound and stable currency and to money recognized as such on every continent and in every market of the world. This government has the right to injure them by financial experiments opposed to the policy and practice of other civilized states, nor is justified in permitting an exaggerated and unreasonable reliance on the national strength and ability to jeopardize the stability of the people's money.

This matter rises above the plane of party politics. It vitally concerns every business and calling and enters every home in the land. There is no important question of the welfare of the people which the true interests of the country clearly demand, which so large a majority of the people as shown by their suffrage desire and expect, and to the accomplishment of which every effort of the people should be directed.

A Stable Currency Needed.

The speculator may profit himself by the fluctuations of values; but the wage-earner, the first to be injured by a depreciated currency and the last to receive the benefit of its correction is practically defenseless. He relies for his support on the protection of the government and its capital. In failing him, his condition is without alleviation, for he can neither prey on the misfortunes of others nor hear his labor. One of the greatest statements our country has known, speaking more than fifty years ago, when the dangers of a depreciated currency were causing commercial distress, said: "The very man of all others who has the deepest interest in a sound currency, and who suffers most by mischievous legislation in money matters, is the man who earns his daily bread by his daily toil."

The words are as pertinent now as on the day they were uttered and ought to impressively remind us that a failure in the discharge of our duty at this time must especially injure those of our countrymen who labor, and who, because of their number and condition, are entitled to the most watchful care of their government.

Instant Relief Necessary.

It is of the utmost importance that such relief as congress can afford in the existing situation be afforded at once. The maxim: "He gives twice who gives quickly," is directly applicable to the present emergency. It is evident that the present embarrassments from which the business of the country is suffering arise as much from evils apprehended as from those actually existing. We may hope, too, that certain evils will prevail, and that under the capitalist system we may expect to give way to unmeasuring panic and sacrifice their property or their interests under the influence of exaggerated fears.

Nevertheless, every day's delay in removing the existing evils, and particularly the present state of things, enlarges the mischief already done and increases the responsibility of the government for its existence. Whatever else

THE LABOR PROBLEM

Council Last Evening Discussed the Question of What Shall be Done With the Unemployed.

A Conference Will be Held by the Finance Committee and the County Commissioners on Wednesday.

Highland Improvement Company Will Not Donate a Site for an Engine House—Other Matters.

Last evening's council meeting was what might be called a short one, as it was all wound up and put away by 9 o'clock. When the session opened, shortly after 7:30 o'clock, four aldermen, Messrs. Cox, Myers, Howard and Sorenson, were absent. The last named came in later, but the three others did not appear at all, which probably had something to do with the fact that there was nothing from the committee on public offices and affairs.

After the roll call had been called and the minutes of the previous meeting had been approved, Mayor d'Autremont was announced. Stepping to the front, he addressed the city fathers in substance:

"There are certain matters in the city of Duluth and St. Louis county which call for action on the part of the city. It is useless to tell here how hard up the city is for cash, or how necessary it is that the city should be given every opportunity to be observed. At the same time, it seems as if some method should be devised for giving employment, at current wages, to those who are out of both money and work.

"There are a great many little men in the city and the time will come when there is no means whereby the city can extend work. It is not charity that we want—soup houses and similar institutions draw in many more and make matters worse—what is needed is a better arrangement of the burden between the city and the county. The majority of these men come from the north part of the country. It is right and proper that the county should share a proper part of the burden. The county commissioners are anxious that the city council or a committee from the body of the commissioners should discuss matters in full and if possible devise some means of aid. Hundreds of men in the mines have been allowed to go unpaid and many of the companies that have paid are now shutting down. Some have families to support, some are old. Many are seen to be in a worse condition. I ask, therefore, that a committee from the council, or better yet, the whole council, meet the county commissioners.

"The project of constructing city water works has been broached in the papers, but as the cost of labor and materials, money cannot be raised for that purpose. But something must be done to secure employment for men with families. It is also for you to decide what to do with the young men, yet it is best to give them cheap transportation to the harvest fields of the West, or attempt to attend to their cases right here."

Mayor d'Autremont spoke strong words of praise concerning the papers, but the principal consideration was that of the safety of some lands, largely quarries. The building committee was instructed to investigate and report on the advisability of moving into the High School building, where there is more than enough room. The local office has been reversed and final proof permitted on the grounds that the claimants have acted in good faith when there have been no protest made by the claimants. The case of Thomas Mullen and T. Lauer was the one decided upon.

The new hotel adjoins the old hotel D'Aoust, and the proprietor, Z. D'Aoust, will for the present conduct both hostelleries. The new hotel twenty-five sleeping apartments besides, good sized parlors. On the first floor are two commodious offices, reading room and dining room.

Hotel Duluth Opening.

The Hotel Duluth on West Superior street between Fifth and Sixth avenues was formally opened to the public last night with a ball and banquet. The lower floor was cleared of furniture for dancing and until a late hour a crowd of young people tripped the light fantastic to the strains of an Italian string band. Shortly after midnight an excellent supper was served.

The new hotel adjoins the old hotel D'Aoust, and the proprietor, Z. D'Aoust, will for the present conduct both hostelleries. The commissioner decides that claimant acted in good faith and was not absent from his own volition, hence the decision as stated.

The trial of the land contest of Willis S. Cleveland and the State of Minnesota vs. the St. Paul & Duluth Road the claim of the state has been rejected.

There have been several cases where purchasers of lands under the timber and stone contract have been unable to raze the purchases made on the day of final payment, failing final proof, the action of the local office has been reversed and final proof permitted on the grounds that the claimants have acted in good faith when there have been no protest made by the claimants. The case of Thomas Mullen and T. Lauer was the one decided upon.

The action of the local office in refusing to permit entries by Frank C. Tambling and Charlotte Case because the tracts were not contiguous, was sustained.

The County Commissioners Took no Action Whatever on the Marvin Tract Index Matter.

No Motion Could Get a Second and no Further Action Will Probably be Taken.

Mrs. Stearns Addresses the Commissioners Regarding Making Provision for Unemployed Young Women.

The county commissioners concluded their meeting and adjourned at noon today. No disposition was made of the Marvin tract index matter. Yesterday afternoon Commissioner Fourier moved that the question be laid on the table. There was no second and the motion fell. Commissioner Swenson then moved that the matter be laid over until the next meeting. That motion also fell for want of a second. Therefore the proposition to purchase is in statu quo, but there is certainly no great eagerness shown by the commissioners to accept Mrs. Marvin's offer and buy the books for the county.

This morning Mrs. O. P. Stearns appeared before the commissioners in behalf of aid for girls out of employment, or rather girls who are likely to be out of employment. It was moved that it is time to take action and she gladly gave Mrs. Stearns time to speak and discussed with her the exigencies of the case. Mrs. Stearns says there are many girls now out of employment and there will be more before winter sets in. These unfortunate girls will be in great trouble to secure a place to sleep in. It was also suggested that a room be rented up at the county poor house for such cases. It was also suggested that the ladies who will take up the work should rent a house—such as the stagecoach house on Minnesota Point for example—and provide sleeping quarters for the girls. The county would then probably co-operate in the way of providing plain food. No action was taken, but Mrs. Stearns was assured of the hearty co-operation of the commissioners in the care for any who should be in actual need.

H. Smith, superintendent of roads, reported an expenditure of $170,075 in June, and $4,979.91 in July, or a total of $61,056 up to August 1.

The report of the superintendent of the poor listed 28 inmates July 31, during the month 36 inmates.

The following figures are taken from the report of County Physician Fullerton: In hospital July 1, 41; admitted during the month, 33; total, 74; discharged, 31; died, 10; leaving 33 in hospitals Aug. 1.

The report of the Commissioner of the Poor, showed the following expenditures: Relief with groceries $275; for transportation, $10; St. Mary's hospital, $704; St. Luke's, $288. There were 141 applications for aid, 88 of which were granted. The superintendent made 72 visits to determine the merit of cases.

CAUCUS TODAY.

Members of Congress Are Busy Engaged
Today In Consulting In Regard to Financial Legislation.

The Prospects Are Bright For An Agreement
So That There Will Be No Filibustering.

If No Agreement Is Reached Before Friday,
Anti-Silver Men Will Act With Promptitude.

Coinage Committee To Be Appointed That
Will Have a Decided Anti-Silver Majority.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—This will be a day of caucuses at the capitol. The house adjourned over until Thursday so as to give full scope to the silver men for their consultation, which is to be of the broadest character. Mr. Bland made it known that he desired all friends of silver, whether Democrats, Republicans or Populists, to consider themselves welcome, and silver senators also were not to be excluded if they chose to aid their colleagues of the lower house with their advice.

A caucus will also be held by Democratic senators before the adjournment of the session. It may depend upon the decision arrived at in caucus whether or not the silver debate, which had so sudden and spirited an opening in the senate yesterday, will be continued and carried along to a definite issue, or whether the Democratic leaders will postpone the debate on the lines which Republican senators yesterday originated. There is a general belief that the Democratic leaders will insist upon the right to lead, and will resent, as they did yesterday, any effort on the part of their opponents to originate measures on vital points of policy.

The 250 bills introduced in the senate yesterday are likely to be followed up by a still more bulky consignment today. Speaker Crisp continues to maintain an eloquent silence as to the fate of the various committees, and this has led to unlimited gossip, much of it probably baseless. The possibility that Representative Geisenhainer, of New Jersey, may be appointed chairman of the house committee on immigration, which position he occupied in the last congress, has developed strong opposition from the Democratic party is paramount to Grover Cleveland, seems absolutely unable to concentrate itself upon any one candidate, while the Neals, Stevens, and even Mr. T. C. Wright, who seek admission to the Fifty-second congress, have been developed strong opposition from various labor organizations.

Herman Schulites, who was one of the commissioners sent abroad by President Harrison to investigate the silver question, assisted by other representatives of productive labor, is making a thorough canvass of the house, urging members to file protests with Speaker Crisp against the selection of Geisenhainer. He alleges that Mr. Geisenhainer is not a man of the people, but they are so far confined to hotel jobs and carburetors and have failed to reach the dignity of open headquarters. Between now and tomorrow morning the efforts of the leading delegates who are on the side of the administration will be directed toward bringing about a settlement by which a clash in the convention on the silver issue may be avoided.

The adjournment of the house on Thursday was for the purpose of allowing the members to file their silver protest to have ample time to consult and to endeavor to come to an understanding about the method of procedure and the time for taking a vote. A caucus of the free coinage men was called to meet in the hall of the house at noon today, while others were to meet at the same hour, in order of agreeing to a time for a vote to win over to their way of thinking Mr. Bland and his associates who will not bear to the making of any terms with the opposition.

When the caucus concludes its labors there will be renewed conference between the leaders of the two sides. It is probable that if there is any agreement reached at all, it will be arrived at before Thursday morning. There is decided opposition on the part of some of the leaders of the administration in regard to the repeal of the Sherman law and the necessity for immediate action. It is said that if there is not some sort of an agreement entered into before the adjournment Friday at the earliest, a motion will be made and carried through the house to adopt temporarily the rules of the last house, and that immediately thereafter Mr. Crisp will announce a committee on coinage, weights and measures which will be composed of the leading members of the administration in regard to the repeal of the Sherman law and the necessity for immediate action.

Spokesman is understood to be in entire accord with the ideas of the administration in regard to the repeal of the Sherman law and the necessity for immediate action. It is said that if there is not some sort of an agreement entered into before the adjournment Friday at the earliest, a motion will be made and carried through the house to adopt temporarily the rules of the last house, and that immediately thereafter Mr. Crisp will announce a committee on coinage, weights and measures which will be composed of the leading members of the administration in regard to the repeal of the Sherman law and the necessity for immediate action.

This committee would soon report a bill for the repeal of the silver purchase clause of the Sherman law, and after a reasonable debate it is to be voted on. A bill has been proposed providing for a vote. This course will not be adopted, however, unless it is apparent that the free coinage men are determined, even at the risk of the financial ruin of the country, to filibuster unreasonably against the passage of the bill.

WILL BE NO FILIBUSTERING.
Should It Be Tried, the Closure Will Be Applied.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9.—The anti-silver men have been led to expect by the expressions of those silver men with whom they have conferred regarding the proposed agreement for a prompt discussion that no filibustering would be countenanced.

"There may be an attempt," said Representative Harter, one of the leading anti-silverites this morning, "on the part of a few radical silver advocates to delay the inevitable simply for delay, and if their opposition shall prove to be purely for obstructive purposes there will be no trouble in securing the signature of a large majority of the Democrats on the floor to get the committee on rules to report a closure."

Mr. Easter says there are two other things besides the repeal of the silver purchase law as recommended by President Crisp. One is to have only a bill essential to the complete return of confidence and the rapid growth of prosperity. "The first is the least important, perhaps," he said, "but it will produce instant, most welcome results." This is to have national banks the right to issue up to the par value of their bonds. A still more important thing is to give the secretary of the treasury, with the approval of the president, the right to sell United States thirty-year 3 per cent bonds at any time, and in any amount he sees fit, in order to raise money all United States coined and paper money at a parity, or in order to pay off debts of the United States at maturity.

THE OHIO DEMOCRATS.

A Decidedly Lively Convention and the Result Uncertain.

CINCINNATI, O., Aug. 9.—To the strains of martial music and between columns of "Old Glory" and gay colored banners, the representatives of the state Democracy have taken the Queen City by storm. The Ohio Democratic convention, which had been adjourned to a caucus yesterday, will be continued and carried along to a definite issue, or whether the Democratic leaders will postpone the debate on the lines which Republican senators yesterday originated. There is a general belief that the Democratic leaders will insist upon the right to lead, and will resent, as they did yesterday, any effort on the part of their opponents to originate measures on vital points of policy.

Incipient booms have been started for the adjournment of the house, and it will be a free-for-all race for the gubernatorial nomination and the lightning may strike any one of the dozen or more candidates that have permitted their names to be mentioned, but who as yet have failed to manifest enough confidence in their support to be elected. The convention to be held in the hall of the commissioners will be a decidedly lively one.

ANOTHER SUSPENSION.

Police Officer Knute Kohn Is In Trouble and Is Liable to Lose His Star.

According to Witnesses He Grossly Abused and Maltreated a Prisoner Yesterday and Without Cause.

A Petition Was Sent in Asking For His Removal and the Mayor Will Investigate.

Another policeman has gone wrong and as a result was suspended this morning by Mayor d'Autremont pending an investigation. Yesterday W. E. Keating, a big farmer from near McCauleyville, Wilkin county, in this state, was celebrating a little in Duluth with some friends and as a result got a little the worse for liquor. In the evening he escaped to go over to West Superior, but got into a West Duluth car instead of one on the Garfield avenue line. The mistake was discovered at Nineteenth avenue west, when Mr. Keating left the car. He fell to the sidewalk, took off his coat and handled his feet in the usual style customary to a man who has been a little too convivial.

Just then Officer Knute Kohn came up and commanded Keating to put on his coat. The order was not obeyed and was repeated several times. The policeman, who was very angry, did nothing to impress upon the muddled man's mind that a policeman was dealing with him. The stranger finally took a step forward, extending his hands in a manner possibly indicative of annoyance and displeasure, when the officer drew his club and struck the man in the former's head. That was followed by a blow on the cheek bone, which knocked down the object of the assault. As Keating laid prostrate his hand and knees, two heavy blows, which were heard nearly a block away, were dealt him on the back of the head. Covered with blood, the unfortunate man was taken to the police station.

Early this morning, a petition signed by nineteen citizens and business men at Nineteenth avenue west, asking that Mayor d'Autremont for his investigation be presented to the mayor and a large delegation came in person to emphasize the matter. Several told the story of the happening as they saw it, and from what they said, Mohr must be either a brute or an officer of the law. The delegation, as there were many men standing by who would have rendered assistance if called upon. As it was, Mohr, the witness said, did not stop his blows until the crowd took his club from him. To the protests and the inquiries as to the reason for such a radical exercise of authority, the policeman replied:

The mayor was very indignant over the performance, as told him by so many creditable witnesses. He promised the delegation to give the matter his most careful attention and sending for Mohr, notified him that he was suspended pending a hearing. It is pretty certain that he will not continue to wear the star longer.

How the Offices in the Senate Are Divided Between the Democratic and Republican Members.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10.—Both house and senate will probably adjourn at the close of today's session until Monday for a breathing spell and to make some further efforts to determine "where they are at" by caucusing and private consultation.

The understanding was last night that Mr. Blaund would be ready to introduce in the house today his silver bill and that the speaker had agreed to recognize him for that purpose.

Mr. Blaund's intended bill, it is said, puts first the free port of St. Paul, and won $1,125 in two days, lives at East Orange, N. J., and is only 29 years of age. The re-opening of the case before Judge Goggin was vigorously but ineffectually opposed by Attorney W. E. Mason, representing Clingman.

Sad State of Affairs Along the Cherokee Strip.

GUTHRIE, O. T., Aug. 10.—A government official, who has just returned from a trip among the boomers along the Kansas line of the Cherokee strip, reports great destitution and suffering among the people.

Many are suffering for food and their live stock is dying, some from Texas fever and some from starvation, the hot weather having raised the Kansas grasshoppers to a higher pitch. The Sherman price, and a patrol of soldiers prevents the people from pasturing their stock on the abundant grass on the strip.

Good Effects of the Heavy Arrivals of Gold Being Felt.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The announcement made after the close of business yesterday that the syndicate made up to take care of the General Electric's floating debt had completed its arrangements had a good effect on the company's stock today. The first sales were at 41, but the price was stepped up to 44. The general market was strong.

The market is beginning to feel the heavy arrival of gold and the increase in the national bank circulation.

The steamship Spree, which arrived last night, brought $30,000 gold. The Bank of America, Chicago, has consigned to it $51,750. The Illinois Trust and Savings bank of Chicago, has engaged $375,000 to be shipped from London and $350,000 has been secured by other Chicago parties. The steamship Orizaba, which arrived from Havana yesterday, brought $16,000 gold.

The President's Telegram is sneering at President Cleveland's message. For crass stupidity and monumental asininity the Telegram leads the procession of journalistic vapors. There is not a leading newspaper in the land of acknowledged fairness but that declares that the president's message was clear, honest, terse, patriotic and strong. It is an out-spoken document, trenchantly dealing with the cause of the financial ills from which the country suffers and directly pointing out the remedy that must be applied.

Even the Chicago Inter-Ocean, one of the most intensely Republican papers in the West, praises the message and expresses its full sympathy with the president's views. The New York Tribune, edited by the last Republican candidate for vice president, joins in the tributes to the level-headed advice which President Cleveland has given to congress and to the nation, and says: "The president deserves high honor for the message, so free from every suggestion of trimmings and compromise at a time when the air is full of bartering schemes, and so earnest and strong in its appeal to the good sense of men of all parties to stop the dread of vicious action on the money question. Without distinction of party, men who care for the public welfare will sustain him wherever he is so clearly in the right."

Instead of sneering at the president's wise and patriotic utterances and endeavoring to foment distrust in the government, when what the country now requires is confidence, the Telegram and other small minded partisan sheets of that class should be upholding the president in his courageous and patriotic endeavor to induce congress to place the country's monetary system upon a sound and stable basis. "What is needed now," said Governor McKinley in a speech in Ohio a few days ago, "is level headedness." This is a proper sentiment and it should be generally cultivated. The country needs confidence, and we must have it if we have to fight for it against the croakers and the calumny howlers.

State Banks All Right.

A statement of the condition of all the organized state banks in Minnesota at the close of business on July 12 has just been completed by Bank Examiner Kenyon. It makes a showing that, in view of the financial crisis through which the country has passed, is highly gratifying. Of course the statement shows a great decrease in the business done by the banks during the past year. In fact, over $1,000,000 in deposits have been withdrawn during the year. The withdrawal has been steady and continuous up to within a short time ago, when it culminated in runs on some of the banks, but it has apparently stopped, according to the reports at the office of the superintendent of banks.

The drain on the banks seems to have been about the same in all parts of the state; no one locality seems to have been either more favored or worse than the others, and the banks of the state have shown wonderful strength in withstanding the drain as well as they have. The money has simply been stowed away in odd corners and all manner of secret places for safe keeping, and will turn up in the banks again in a very short time.

if congress does anything to restore confidence.

Some of it is returning already, and the outlook is brighter by far than it was a few weeks ago. The money is all in the state, and there is no danger of its being sent out at present. The probabilities are that it will all be in circulation again in a short time, and with its return from its hiding place the situation will be made decidedly easier. Confidence is rapidly returning, and that is all that is necessary to cause the over-timed people to again place their savings in the institutions that have shown their soundness and solidity.

Merritt-Wetmore Syndicate All Right.

The rumors which have been current here for the last few days to the effect that the Merritt-Wetmore syndicate is losing or about to lose control of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad to the far Northwest since yesterday, and that the far fair prospect of control of that railroad by the largest amount of rail that was at Fort Arthur, where it amounted to 1.25 inches.

The temperature has risen in all sections except the far Northwest where there has been coolness. The thermometer at Duluth stands at 70 degrees. The barometer is now 30.02 inches, and has been increased in energy very materially during its passage.

The amount of low pressure was greatest over the Northwest yesterday morning, has now moved southward, and is now centered over Western Lake Superior, and has been increased in energy very materially during its passage.

The rainfall since the beginning of the shower was of an inch, of which .55 fell last night.

The city council should not overlook the fact that the laying of the water main from the city to Knife river could be done now cheaper than at any other time and that it would furnish work for many laborers. Missouri miners are proposing a "sympathy strike" to aid their brethren in Kansas. As their suspension of work will cause hardship to their own wives and children, it would appear to be a case of misplaced sympathy. The women and children will need sympathy and food as well.

Of differing opinions regarding the prevailing dispute in the business and financial world, there is apparently no end. George Gould says it is the hostile attitude assumed by the legislators of the country toward the great corporations that is responsible. There are not many people who will agree with Mr. Gould upon this point.

Barke Cockran will give the silver men a lively dance on the financial issue. He is a splendid leader for the anti-silver forces, ready in debate, witty, good natured and eloquent. What is still better, he understands his subject thoroughly and will not be tripped up by Mr. Bland or his coadjutors.

The New York Herald has polled the governors of the states on the silver question. This appears to be a waste of effort. The governors have no votes in congress, and their opinions on this or any other national subject will have no effect at this time.

Timber Claimants Versus "Settlers".

To the Editor of The Herald:

Much has recently been said and published regarding the unwarranted invasion of the rights of so-called "settlers" in timber country, especially in the townships recently opened to entry. One acquainted with the facts can deny that each class of claimants have the same object in view, to wit: Possession of the fine timber regardless of the land, the only difference being to the most available method used to secure a good title.

Not a case can be cited in which the pre-emptor has failed to select those claims only which contain the most pine timber, without any reference whatever to the coming man will neither smoke nor eat onions." Well, how about the coming woman?

Results of Carelessness.

The recent increase in insurance rates all over the country is more easily understood when the statement of the fire loss in the United States and Canada during the month of July is studied. It shows that the loss was double that for the corresponding month in 1892. It aggregated $12,187,000, or half a million more than in July of last year.

Twelve millions gone up in smoke, wiped off the face of the earth by fire, is a startling record for one month. It shows how really ineffective, after all, are the appliances which the world has devised for fighting fire, and how necessary it is that the people should adopt new methods for protection from this demon of destruction.

The country is $12,000,000 poorer than it was July 1 by reason of this wholesale wiping out of buildings and their contents.

When the figures for the first seven months of 1893 are considered, the mind is astounded at the awful waste. The fire loss since January 1 last has been $88,100,500, which is $21,134,000 more than the loss in the first seven months of last year. Contemplating these enormous figures, which mean that the insurance companies have suffered more heavily than in any previous year, their recent action in shoving up the rates all over the country is not astonishing. It is safe to say that four-fifths of the enormous loss is due to pure carelessness. The majority of people are criminally careless in respect to fire, and the result is heavy loss both to themselves and neighbors. Perhaps if fire insurance were unknown, this carelessness would be largely diminished and fires would not be so numerous.

Governor Waite, of Colorado, is said to be a mild-mannered man, but when he talks of "wading through blood" he is evidently making a big, bold bluff. Probably he would faint at the sight of gore.

Pension Commissioner Locher has extended the time in which suspended pensioners can answer with proof of their disabilities. This causes the Milwaukee Wisconsin to point out that it is no part of his purpose to squeeze deserving pensioners from the rolls. He is after the frauds, who will be unable to furnish proof. This ought to satisfy most ardent friend of the old soldiers.

Then a Debate Under the Five-Minute Rule For Three Days, Followed by Voting.

The Repeal Bill Was Promptly Introduced in the House This Morning by Mr. Wilson.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The conference of the opposing forces on the silver question was called for 10 o'clock this morning, and the eagerness and anxiety of each side was made apparent by the early arrival of the parties to the conference, for at 9:45 they were nearly all present in the judiciary committee room. The silver men had not arrived at a conclusion upon the last proposition from the other side, providing that the repeal bill shall take precedence, but that opportunity shall be given for votes upon different ratios and other plans of the silver men. Just before the conference began they voted to adjourn until 10 o'clock.

A committee of the unemployed visited the newspaper offices today and announced the ultimatum of the mass meeting. They said that the meeting was composed of American citizens resident of Denver, the majority of whom had farms in support, and that they would demand the immediate disengagement of foreign contract labor if it came to bloodshed. They declared that they would as soon die of gunshot wounds as of starvation.

It is hoped that arrangements will be made that will give the citizens work and avoid trouble.

A CYCLONE IN KANSAS.

Five Separate Funnel-Shaped Clouds Struck the Earth and Did Large Amount of Damage.

LARNED, Kas., Aug. 11.—A funnel-shaped cyclone visited this section about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and struck the ground nine miles south of this city. At one time five separate clouds, whirling with great velocity and with their points reaching toward the earth, were seen by the residents of this place who gathered in the streets.

Later—11:10 a. m., the conference of silver and anti-silver men had reached an agreement by which general debate on a bill for repeal of the Sherman clause of the Sherman bill was to be limited to eleven days. This will be followed by debate for three days under the five-minute rule, when voting will begin on the bill and various silver amendments.

The present arrangement is that the bill will be introduced in the house today, with the understanding that the committee shall prescribe the method of procedure and general debate shall be at once. If carried out this program will bring the house to a vote on the bill and amendments on Aug. 28.

Senate Bill Introduced.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—In the house, Mr. Wilson, Democrat, introduced the repeal bill immediately after the reading of the journal.

Representative Bland offered the agreement made this morning governing the course of debate. It limits debate to fourteen days, sessions continuing from 11 a. m. to 5 p. m., and with night sessions for the purpose of it. The vote is set to be taken on the bill to be presented as a substitute for the Wilson bill provides for free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1. If it fails, then at ratios from 17 to 1 up to 20 to 1. If they all fail then on the revival of the Bland-Allison bill of 1878, and then on the original measure.

The substitute bill of the free coinage caucus was called for and presented by Mr. Bland. Mr. Bland demanded the previous question on his bill, but this was antagonized by the Republicans under the leadership of Mr. Cannon, who wanted time to debate the question. Under the ruling of the presiding officer the absence of rules or agreement, ordering the previous question would cut off debate. By the operation of voting by tellers, Mr. Cannon secured sufficient support to secure a vote by yeas and nays, and at 12:35 the calling of the roll began. The vote resulted—yeas 217, nays 100, so the previous question was ordered.

The Republicans generally voted with the Democrats in support of the motion.

Mr. Wilson, Democrat, began the debate at 1:05. Mr. Rayner, Democrat, began the debate in support of the Wilson bill for the unconditional repeal of the silver purchase clause. Mr. Rayner said that the adoption of the policy of free silver coinage would tie the United States to the tail of the banking nation of the world.

The object of the bill is to give the United States the right to maintain the bimetallic value of the coin, but the value of the bullion would always be regulated by the market price. As long as the Sherman silver act remains on the statute books, so long it will be impossible to effect an international arrangement, so long will monetary conferences result in failure.

WHAT THE BILL PROVIDES.

Contents of the Wilson Bill to Repeal the Sherman Law.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Wilson bill provides that much of the act passed July 14, 1870, as directs the secretary of the treasury to coin silver from time to time silver bullion to the aggregate amount of 4,500,000 ounces, or so much thereof as may be offered in each month at the market price thereof, not exceeding $1 for 37½ grains of pure silver and to return payment for such purchase, treasury notes of the United States, but the same is hereby repealed. But this repeal shall not impair nor in any manner affect the legal tender quality of the standard silver dollars when coined, and the same is hereby made to remain in the United States at the present legal ratio, or such other ratio as may be established by law.

THE SCARE AT PENSACOLA.

Surgeon General Wyman has Sent an Expert to Investigate.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—A dispatch received here from Pensacola, Florida, after midnight, stated that no suspicious case of any kind has been reported since the two deaths which occasioned the scare, that the panic was over and the people had begun to believe that the situation was not so serious as it at first appeared.

The committee of safety appointed by the city council in order to take charge of matters and had requested Surgeon General Wyman to send an expert in yellow fever to investigate the origin and nature of the disease. Surgeon General Wyman has received from this committee the following telegram:

"The situation prevails in this community whether or not we have been directed by the committee of public safety to request you to send an expert in yellow fever to investigate the origin and nature of the disease."

Mr. Wyman has been directed by the committee of public safety to request you to send an expert in yellow fever to investigate the origin and nature of the disease."

CHICAGO, Aug. 11.—Charles G. Eddy, second vice president of the Reading System and formerly general freight agent of the Northwestern railroad, committed suicide last evening in Washington park by shooting himself through the head. He was found stretched on the grass about 8:30 o'clock. In his hand he held a 32-caliber revolver, one chamber of which was empty. He had been dead but a few minutes.

Mr. Eddy had been staying with his wife at the Metropole hotel for the past three months. A dispatch from Philadelphia says Eddy left the Norfolk & Western railroad for a brief position as brakeman, with A. A. McLoud, on the Reading. While on his return to the Reading, he was removed by the managers and his position abolished. He suddenly found himself on the sidewalk without occupation. He had let a $600 position.

GOSSIP OF CONGRESS

The Republicans Insisting Upon Immediate Action on Silver and Resisting Every Motion to Adjourn.

Democratic Senate Caucus Committee in Almost Constant Session, to Arrange a Plan of Action.

Senator Gorman Holds the Key to the Situation But How He Stands Nobody Knows.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The brief proceedings in the senate yesterday, coming after the action of the day before, indicate that the parties in the senate are beginning to line up. There is a slight dissatisfaction on the Republican side on the part of a few silver men, but generally they have adopted the policy of annoying their opponents in the majority by insisting upon an immediate disposition of the silver question, and therefore resisting every motion to adjourn and calling for the yeas and nays to be taken.

One of the Republican leaders in financial matters said that they would keep up this line of action until the majority was obliged to proceed to business. He insisted that the Democrats could not change the Republicans with persistent inaction, insomuch as they were steadily trying to give immediate effect to the president's suggestions as contained in his message.

On the other hand, the Democratic senators resent the attempt of the Republicans to control the business of the senate and dictate the character of the legislation that shall be attempted. They have resolved that they will not permit action until they have themselves agreed upon a line of policy, and the conduct of the Republicans has had the effect to rouse the anger of the elements on the Democratic side upon this question.

Meanwhile the Democratic caucus committee is in almost constant session, trying to arrange a plan of action, and the keenest parliamentarians on the Republican side are quietly conferring among themselves to devise means to carry out the promise to be interesting.

Between now and Monday next it is hoped by the friends of the administration in the senate that some possible plan by which may be agreed upon on the silver question, there are slender grounds for hope. Since the movements that have cropped out thus far, Senator Gorman appears to hold the key to the situation. Not only is he chairman of the Democratic caucus but he is also chairman of the "steering" committee, the committee which he himself appointed under the authority of the caucus.

This committee is composed of Senators Gorman, chairman; Blackburn, of Kentucky; Cockrell, of Missouri; Wahl, of Mississippi; Ransom, of North Carolina; of Wisconsin; Clegg, of Delaware, and W. H. of Louisiana. Messrs. Blackburn, Cockrell, Waithall, and Ransom are avowed silver men. Messrs. Vilas, Gray and White are avowedly opposed to the free coinage of silver and stand squarely upon the president's platform of unconditional repeal. But Senator Gorman stands none but himself can tell, for he has not now into his confidence.

Just at this moment, however, attention is concentrated upon the struggle in the house between the silver and anti-silver Democrats. Yesterday was given up to conference, and the result of the propositions between the conflicting parties, and some optimistic members feel that progress was made toward an agreement. The forces on both sides will try again today to get together, but the general trend of opinion is toward a general agreement toward a general dis-agreement and a drawing of water.

A rumor was current yesterday that Mr. Catchings had passed around word to the administration forces to be on hand today, and this rumor was the foundation for the surmise that the anti-silver leaders, aided by Secretary Carlisle, have forged a new rule to fit the present situation and enable the house to get to

SURROUNDED BY MYSTERY!

A Great Mistake.

A recent discovery is that headache, dizziness, numbness, etc., of the nerves, are due to damage done to the nerve centers which supply the brain with nerve force; that indigestion, dyspepsia, neuralgia, wind in stomach, etc., arise from the derangement of the nerve centers supplying these organs with their fluid or force. This is likewise true of the heart, lungs, etc. The nerve system is like a telegraph system.

The nerve system is like a telegraph system, as will be seen by the accompanying cut. The little white lines are the nerves which convey the nervous force from the nerve centers to every part of the body, just as the electric current is conveyed along the telegraph wires to the telegraph station, large or small. Ordinary physicians do not regard this fact; instead of real interest, they are the causes of a great many arising therefrom, they treat the part.

Franklin Miles, M. D., LL. B., the highly educated son of a student of nervous diseases, and author of many noted treatises on the latter subject, long ago made a statement and his restorative. Nerve is prepared on that principle, its success in curing diseases from the derangement of the nervous system is wonderful. A grand number of medical testimonies in the possession of the company manufacturing the remedy amply prove.

The restorative is a reliable remedy for all nervous diseases, such as headache, nervous debility, prostration, nervous debility, neuralgia, etc., etc. It is sold by all druggists, a few medical men, or sold by Dr. Miles' Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, $3.00 for 3, $5.00 express prepaid.

Restorative, however, only contains no opiate or dangerous drug.

business. The silver men, however, are watching every proposition of that character with the greatest vigilance, and it is safe to say that they will not be taken by surprise.

Committees on silver having been appointed, the next committees to be selected by the speaker will be on accounts and mileage and enrolled bills. No political importance attaches to these committees, but their appointment is necessary before the ordinary routine business of the session can commence. Speaker Crisp reiterates his announcement that it will probably be two weeks before he is ready to announce the other committees.

HE MURDERED HIS SON.

A Terrible Tragedy Committed by an Old Man in Ohio.

LONDON, O., Aug. 11.—"I will hang like VanLoon, he stole my money and I am justified in what I have done," were the words of aged and prominent merchant of this city as he entered the murderer's cell at the Madison county jail at noon yesterday.

It was one of the most thrilling murders that have occurred in the history of the county. Thomas Cremer, an aged and respected grocery merchant and saloon-keeper of the city, shot and killed his son, Ollie. The cause of the shooting was that the father had accused the son of stealing money from his pockets during the night.

The man came up about noon yesterday in the Cremer grocery, and three shots were fired, taking effect in the breast and killing him instantly.

The father is aged about 70 years and the son 40.

THE PANAMA CANAL FRAUDS.

Suits to Recover Large Sums from the Contractors.

PANAMA, Aug. 11.—It is reported that the affairs of the Panama Canal company will shortly have another airing in the courts, due to the efforts of the liquidators of the company to recover sums of money.

It is said that M. Lemaire has applied for and granted summonses against the members of the syndicate of contractors in civil proceedings to recover damages for the loss of the sum of $100,000.

The Populists Will Not Follow Out Mr. Bland's Program.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—When the coinage substitute is finally submitted to the house and voting upon amendments begins, it has developed that the Populists will put company with the Democratic free silverites at very early stage.

Mr. Bland will propose a ratio of 16 to 1. Populists object to this, and have announced a willingness to submit amendments placing the ratio at 18, to 18 and 20 successively. The Populists stop at the first departure from the 16 to 1 standard. In voting against the following ratios their strength will practically be added to that of the unconditional repeal men.

When asked about it, Mr. Simpson said it was a sad state of affairs, but it was so. The Populists have a reputation for consistency to maintain.

HIS SANITY QUESTIONED.

Gen. Alexander Hamilton's Mind Said to be Unbalanced.

TAIRYTON, N. Y., Aug. 11.—Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Hamilton, wife of Gen. Alexander Hamilton, the grandson of Gen. Alexander Hamilton of revolutionary fame, has applied to the supreme court at White Plains for the appointment of Eliza B. Frost, of New York, as a commissioner to inquire into the sanity of her husband. Judge Dykman granted the application.

In her petition Mrs. Hamilton alleges that Gen. Hamilton now is and for the space of several years has been so deprived of his reason and understanding as to be altogether unfit and unable to govern himself and manage his affairs. Gen. Hamilton is 70 years old.

Jack Dempsey Injured.

NEW YORK, Aug. 11.—A special from the newspaper, the St. Joseph's hospital in St. Paul, where he has been since last Monday, says he is suffering from a severe cold and is having trouble at the hospital that the brooding over east coast has caused his mind to become temporarily enfeebled.

the Wrong Track.

Just why Maj. Baldwin is possessed of such a strong desire to get on the commerce committee of the house passes
the comprehension of the people in Duluth.
If there is any committee on which he could do some work for the Sixth district, and for a lake port like Duluth, it is the rivers and harbors committee. One of the chief reasons why the people of Duluth gave him such generous support, irrespective of party ties, was that a Duluth man, understanding the requirements of the city in respect to harbor improvements and the needs of the great lake waterway from Duluth to Buffalo, could do much more in congress in this behalf than could a member chosen from the southern or western end of the district.If Speaker Crisp intends to give Maj.
Baldwin a place on a good committee,
let it be on the rivers and harbors committee.
As a member of the commerce committee he could do comparatively little for any part of the Sixth district.
On behalf of the people of Duluth, both Republicans and Democrats who supported
Maj. Baldwin and secured his election in a district that is normally Republican, The Herald would urge Speaker
Crisp to recognize the Duluth member by giving him a place on the rivers and harbors committee, for which he is best fitted by his thorough knowledge of the great lake waterway and where he can do the most for his constituents.In an interview with the Washington correspondent of the Pioneer Press, Congressman Baldwin expressed confidence that he would be put on the commerce committee and at the same time criticized the president's message, because it did not declare positively in favor of an international agreement on bimetallism.
It is doubtful if he has by this criticism advanced his chances of being placed on the commerce committee or any other important committee, because Speaker
Crisp is understood to be in full sympathy with the president on the mode of now dealing with the monetary question and will not favorably regard such an unjustifiable criticism.The major is talking altogether too much for his own good. A successful politician knows when to preserve silence, and this was an occasion when the major should have either praised or said nothing. The Herald hopes, however, that he will abandon any idea of going on the commerce committee and concentrate his energies upon securing a place on the rivers and harbors committee where he can do valuable service for Duluth. At present he is decidedly on the wrong track.

Effect on the Wage-Earner.

There is one point made by President
Cleveland in his message to congress that deserves special emphasis. He alludes to the wage-earner as the first to be injured by a depreciated currency and the last to receive the benefit of its correction and quoted another great statesman who said: "The very man of all others who has the deepest interest in a sound currency and who suffers most by mischievous legislation in money matters, is the man who earns his daily bread by his daily toil."Despite these self-evident facts we find in the silver ranks many men whose sole capital is their labor. In the same class may be placed the small farmer, and yet the Populist ranks are mainly composed of farmers and one of their demands is the free and unlimited coinage of silver, which is certain to result indepreciated and discredited currency and consequent severe loss to themselves.
It is to be hoped that the words of the president in this regard will cause many of them to study this question more carefully and reflect upon the inevitable consequences of the mistaken policy that they are supporting.Many of the workingmen and farmers are depositors in the savings banks of the country. In fact, the great majority of the depositors in such institutions belong to these classes. The total deposits in the savings banks of the United States are about $1,000,000,000, and these dollars are now of gold value. The change from the gold to the silver standard would make every dollar of all that vast sum worth just as much less than it is now, as the silver in a silver dollar today is less valuable as bullion

THE FORGER CAUGHT

The individual who is the supposed author of many small forgeries landed in jail.

He is Fred Allen and his capture was effected through some clever detective work.

A woman was the unconscious means through which he has been brought to justice.

Detective Bob Benson has run to earth the man who is probably responsible for the great number of small forgeries that have been perpetrated on head-of-the-axe merchants of late. He has had a hard chase for his man and has done some clever work to land him.

Fred Allen is the name under which the alleged forger signs. There is a woman in the case and she was the unconscious cause of bringing her lover to grief and justice. Allen purchased a dress pattern at Panton & Watson's and worked off a forged check in payment. Panton & Watson could give no better clue to the perpetrator of the deed, but they could identify the goods. The dress of course was a silk shirt. She had given it over to a dressmaker, one Miss Johnson, who found a lack of material and went to Panton & Watson's to match the goods. This clue enabled the detective to track the crime on Allen.

Next it was necessary to locate the forger. This was done through a nervous telegram purporting to be signed by a partner of Allen's which stated that there was work for him to do and asked where he would be. The message was addressed to Allen in care of Detective Bob Benson at the jail.

Instead of being carried to the jail, however, it was taken by a haggard messenger boy to Allen's mistress with the excuse that the saloon keeper thought she might know his whereabouts. The woman bit and answered the message "Fred is in jail." Allen was released.

But the Allen had left from River but the trail was warm and he was easily traced to Virginia. Deputy Sheriff Ross was notified to arrest Allen and this morning he telephoned that he has the man and will bring him down tonight.

Detective Benson, who is also a deputy sheriff, has been acting in the case under instructions from the sheriff.

THE MAYOR INVESTIGATED.

Testimony Taken on the Charges Against Officer Mohn Today.

Mayor d'Autremont this morning held an investigation in the case of police officer Knute Mohn, who was suspended a few days ago, pending such action on a complaint by nineteen West End business men, charging brutal treatment to a drunken man.

It will be remembered that a big fellow, W. F. Keating, from near McCauleyville, Wilkin county, Minn., while around with friends in Duluth, got pretty drunk and wandered down to the West End all alone. There, according to witnesses, his first act was to pull off his hat, coat and cuffs and stand on the head with his club. That excited the drunkard man, and he made a lunge at Mohn, falling prostrate as the result. When down at most of the witnesses claim, but when falling, the officer asserted, Keating got a heavy rap on the back. He has since suffered a fractured and told Mohn not to tell the fellow, after which, with more or less difficulty, he was landed in the West End station.

The above is an outline of facts as told by a great majority of the witnesses this morning. The first to testify was N. O. Nelson, a restaurant keeper, at 1028 West Superior street, gave testimony rather detrimental to Mohn's interests. Nathan L. Summerfield, the clothing man, and C. H. Einholz, the harness maker, gave testimony to the effect that no facts, John Grinde, a drayman, was on the stand as also were Charles Rosenkrantz, C. M. Thomas, a streetcar conductor.

J. D. Miller did not see any striking but unusual features of the prisoner on the way to the lockup. He asserted had he been an officer, he most certainly should have used his club. Officer Nelson and Sergeant John Kenna gave short testimonies but neither saw the blow struck. Dr. Murray, who sewed up Keating's wounds, described the nature of the injuries.

That closed the testimony except that of Mohn in his own behalf. He claimed that at the very beginning, he asked for assistance but no one responded; that he heard no one calling upon him to stop using his club. The officer did not strike heavy blows, only struck two of them and that he then did so if necessary.

That ended the hearing. John Lewis, who represented the defendant and R. M. Morris, who conducted the proceedings, Mayor d'Autremont will render no decision until he has reviewed the transcribed notes of the testimony.

STOLE A NEWSPAPER.

The Charge Preferred Against Simon Bennett by the Morning Paper.

Simon Bennett, a small boy of Jewish blood, was arraigned in municipal court this morning upon the charge of petit larceny. The complaint, sworn to by W. M. Barrett, alleges that Simon did "willingly, unlawfully and wilfully, with the intent to deprive the true owner, towit: the printed copy of the Duluth News Tribune, hereinbefore mentioned, of its property, towit: the printed copy of the Duluth News Tribune, hereinbefore mentioned, and of its value, which is not so much as to make it appropriate to his own use one printed copy of the Duluth News Tribune, a daily newspaper of the value of 5 cents; that said Duluth News Tribune company at all times herein mentioned did not know that the boy was a minor and is a corporation duly organized and existing by the state of Minnesota; that all times herein mentioned said printed copy of the Duluth News Tribune was the property of the Duluth News Tribune company.

The youngster was accompanied by his mother and entered a plea of not guilty. A jury was asked to decide the question of guilt or innocence at 3 p. m. today. Mrs. Bennett was terribly cut up over the affair and after the arraignment walked around through the halls wringing her hands, moaning and weeping in a high key and in a manner like Rachel-like.

Robert Attick was up on two charges of petit larceny, sworn to by Belle Stanley, one of the scarlet ladies down on the St. Croix and to St. Paul. The complainant, Mrs. Kolan, passed upon her worthless check for $400 payment for such arrangements as she made in her resort.

The Clerks' Excuse.

Last evening the Clerk's union gave an excursion on the Ossifrage. The third afternoon and evening, with the railroads suspended, the excursion was undoubtedly cut down. It started out not a little, but as it was, the boat was comfortably filled and a first class time was universally enjoyed. Musical and social intercourses occupied the time.

Ice cream cake and lemonade were served, when there was a good deal of satisfaction out of these refreshments. The boat went fully a dozen miles into the lake and got back to the wharf a little after 11 o'clock.

Fire on the Height.

A building on Dahl's Heights, occupied as a dwelling and butcher shop, by R. G. Free caught fire last evening. The defunct volunteer fire department, like an old fire horse off duty, could not resist at the sound of the alarm, and the members of the guard, and the members of the fire department, all responded.

The blaze was quenched in about fifteen minutes. One of the four buildings which burned about two weeks ago belonged to Free.

Policeman Miller shortly after the fire arrested Thomas Tierney on suspicion of having set the building on fire but afterwards released him.
